TIME MAGAZINE'S

As the end of the century approached, people looked back and thought about everything and everyone that helped change and better the world. Many people made important contributions to the world throughout the century. To celebrate the end of 100 years, TIME Magazine came out with a list of the 100 Greatest People Of The Century. The list was divided into five categories: (1) Leaders and Revolutionaries, (2) Builders and Titans, (3) Artists and Entertainers, (4) Heroes and Icons, (5) Scientists and Minds.

LEADERS & REVOLUTIONARIES

THEODORE ROOSEVELT: Theodore Roosevelt, the 26th president of the U.S., set the stage for the American century. He was not only a Nobel Prize winner, but he was also the president that ordered the building of the Panama Canal.

VLADIMIR ILLYICH LENIN: Lenin reshaped Russia and made communism into a potent global force. He formed the Marxist Bolshevik party and was the head of the Russian Soviet Republic.

MARGARET SANGER: Margaret Sanger's crusade to legalize birth control spurred the movement for women's liberation. She opened the U.S.'s first family-planning clinic and founded the American Birth Control League.

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT: Mr. Roosevelt lifted the U.S. out of economic despair, revolutionized the American way of life, and helped make the world safe for democracy. He was the 32nd president of the U.S. and started the New Deal legislation.

ADOLF HITLER: Adolf Hitler posed the century's greatest threat to democracy and redefined evil forever. He helped form the Nazi party, wrote Mein Kampf, was dictator of Germany and started World War II by invading Poland.

WINSTON CHURCHILL: Winston Churchill stood alone against fascism and renewed the world's faith in democracy. He was in the House of the Commons, served as First Lord of the Admiralty, was Prime Minister of Great Britain, and won a Nobel Prize for literature.

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT: Eleanor Roosevelt was American's most influential First Lady. She served as her husband's eyes and ears while he was president, and she helped secure the passage of the U.N.'s Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

MOHANDAS GANDHI: Mohandas Gandhi had an outstanding philosophy of nonviolence, and a strong passion for independence. He battled for the rights of Indians and for the independence of India. He led a march to protest taxes on salt, and negotiated an end to 190 years of British colonial rule in India.

DAVID BEN-GURION: David Ben-Gurion helped alter the destiny of the Jewish people. He was Prime Minister of the new state of Israel, and was the one that ordered the invasion of Gaza Strip and Sinai Peninsula.

MAO ZEDONG: His prophetic vision inspired revolutions far beyond China's borders. He proclaimed the People's Republic of China and was its first leader. He also launched the Great Leap Forward, and began the Cultural Revolution.

HO CHI MINH: Minh combine nationalism and communism to perfect the art of guerrilla warfare. He formed the Vietnam Independence League, and was the first president of North Vietnam. He also defeated France at Dien Bien Phu, and began the armed revolt against South Vietnam.

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING JR.: Mr. King led the struggle for racial equality that changed America forever. He founded the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, organized a march on Washington, and was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

AYATULLAH RUHOLLAH KHOMEINI: Khomeini revived Islam's faith and offered a new form of religious government. He was Iran's leader of revolution, and his followers held 52 Americans captive in the U.S. embassy in Tehran.

MARGARET THATCHER: Margaret Thatcher helped make the world safer for capitalism. She was Britain's first female Prime Minister and recaptured the Falkland Islands from Argentina. She was awarded the title of Baroness Thatcher of Kesteven, and took a seat in the House of the Lords.

POPE JOHN PAUL II: Pope John Paul II reminded man kind of every individuals worth in the modern world. He was professor of ethics at Lublin University and named to the College of Cardinals. He was also auxiliary bishop of Cracow and an archbishop.

RONALD REAGAN: Ronald Reagan brought Big Government to its knees and stared down the Soviet Union. He was president of the Screen Actors Guild, and Governor of California, before going on to be elected president twice.

LECH WALESA: Lech Walesa was Poland's brash union organizer. He was leader of Solidarity, was awarded a Nobel Peace Prize, and was president of Poland.

MIKHAIL GORBACHEV: By opening the gates of reform he washed away the cold war. He was General Secretary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. Intending to modernize the U.S.S.R., he initiated a period of political openness and transformation. Mikhail was awarded a Nobel Peace Prize and was president of the Soviet Union until it was dismantled.

NELSON MANDELA: Nelson Mandela is the world's most famous prisoner and now leader of his country. He joined the Antipartheid African National Congress, and, after being released from jail, he became its president. He also shared the Noble Peace Prize with F.W. De Klerk for dismantling apartheid, and is President of South Africa.

THE UNKNOWN REBEL: The Unknown Rebel was a lone Chinese hero that revived the world's view of courage. In 1989 he stood in front of army tanks and told one of the drivers "Why are you here? My city is in chaos because of you."

CASTLE OF DREAMS

On the thirteenth of May, the traditions evening of May Carousel was held in the Memorial Gym. May Carousel is a night in which all senior girls are honored.

The Masters of Ceremonies, Jacob Kampthoener and Ryan Moenster, welcomed everyone. The evening began with the procession of the senior girls. The pages, Lara Siman and Amy Knecht, introduced the girls as they proceeded to the center of the gym and were seated. The retiring queen, Amy Pennell, took her throne for the last time. The 1999 court attendants were Stephanie Ambuehl escorted by Michael Spitznagel, Melissa Brink escorted by Jeffrey Adams, Sara Halbrook escorted by Jason Adams, Lindsey Johnson escorted by Nicholas Zent, Julie Moss escorted by Chris Monahan, Carl Norenhusen escorted by Michael Angle, Katie Serrano escorted by Cory Brinkman, Christina Epuch escorted by Jacob Kampthoener, and Leah Spitznagel escorted by Colin Anderson. The 1999 May Carousel Queen, Leah Gamblin was escorted by Ryan Moenster.

The entertainment for the evening was provided by the color guard, pom pon squad, and the cheerleaders. Color guard performed and the poms executed their "90's Style" routine.

After the entertainment, the Senior Dance was performed. The girls included Debra Aguin, Veronica Bazzie, Crystal Gavins, Briant Christian, Linda Dornan, Nancy Engman, Tasha Giam, Peggy Hammann, Amber Huber, Jessica Ingram, Natasha Mangano, Chayenne Moddin, Melissa Montgomery, Cassie Nymmer, Jamie Rupp, and Carl Roderick. The senior dance boys were John Ahlers, Jeremy Champion, Dennis Davis, Mitchell Goldenberg, Tony Komoroni, Sean Kuehnle, Benjamin Lofink, Brooks Narvaez, Matthew Reiter, Andrew Ronk, Blake Smith, Christopher Tindall, Tandon Williams, Ricky Woodard, and Ryan Worthen.

Following the Senior Dance was the May Fair. Twenty-five senior girls were chosen to dance around the beautifully decorated cake. Participants included Shelly Baker, Stacy Baker, Christina Brand, Amanda Bradford, Sarah Hill, Kathleen O'Brien, Liz Dittman, Sarah Eaton, Kristen Flynn, Sarah Greenup, Jessica Hargreaves, Tiffany Hark, Jessica Hark, Anna Marvick, Amanda Ragan, Amanda Rodgers, Jan Shanafelt, Robyn Slater, Stephanie Smiddy, Kim Snell, Andrea Stovall, Cathy Utz, and Dena Williams.

Marc Johnson and Christopher Spitznagel sang the theme song, "Unforgettable," to the senior girls. Everyone listened as Marc and Chris' harmony mesmerized the audience.

To conclude the ceremony, the senior girls sang "I'll See You Again," as Jeremy Champion accompanied them on the piano.

At the end of the night friends and family rushed to greet the senior girls. Pictures flashed, tears flowed, and it truly was a night they will never forget.

Homecoming week is one of the most exciting times at GCHS. Included in the activities is the announcement of the homecoming court. This year the court consisted of 12 young ladies and 12 gentlemen. Each of these members are nominated by their senior peers, and the entire school votes for the king and queen.

Waiting for the announcement to see who will be the 1999 king and queen has always had everyone waiting on the edge of their seats. Anxiety and anticipation mingled in the air along with the usual feeling of pride from the parents and relatives of all the court members.

The excitement came to a hush as Fine Arts Department Chairman Ronald Pennell made the long-awaited announcement of this year's king and queen. All grew silent as Mr. Pennell said, "The 1999 Homecoming king is Joshua Mefford" and "the 1999 Homecoming queen is Megan Bilyeu." The retiring 1999 May Carousel queen, Leah Gamblin, crowned Megan and everyone cheered.

It was an evening that will be remembered by everyone. The seniors will cherish the memories and the newly crowned king and queen will remember these moments forever.

On SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23, the semi-formal dance was held in the gymnasium. The dance began at 8:00 p.m. and continued until 11:00 p.m. The students all crowded into the gymnasium with hopes of dancing the night away.

It all started with a few fast-paced songs to get everyone excited about dancing. Then the songs began to slow down, allowing for each person to dance with that special someone.

At 9:00 p.m. the homecoming queen Megan Bilyeu, and king Josh Mefford danced to "Remember Me This Way." Then, the other court members joined the two on the dance floor.

The gymnasium was decorated with silver and black balloons that arched across the gym. If the students became too tired to dance anymore, they could rest their feet by sitting in the chairs arranged outside the dance floor. There were also refreshments supplied in the entrance of the gym for the parched students. Another chance for a break from dancing was a chance for the students to have their picture taken upstairs in the gym.

The dance ended with the traditional "Shout," and just like that, the 1999 homecoming week was over, leaving everyone with fond memories.

PARADE

On Monday October 18, Homecoming week started with a bang. Members of various school clubs and organizations met in the parking lot across from the post office for the annual Homecoming parade. The parade began at 6:00 and ended at the high school football field.

The Homecoming theme this year was "Flush the Flyers". Many clubs went along with the theme by dressing up or decorating their float with toilet paper and bubbles. In addition to the toilet paper, some floats actually sported toilets. At the end of the parade route, the floats were judged. The winners were announced later at the pep rally.

Following the parade, there was a pep rally at the football field with Bill Puhse doing the announcing. The cheerleaders, poms, color guard, and band performed for the crowd. The Homecoming court, football team, and soccer team were also introduced.

Following the performances, the float winners were announced. Once again, VICA took first place. Paul Kimbrell, VICA sponsor, put in many hours of hard work to make this year's float a traditional winner. He was assisted by VICA members and anyone else who could give a helping hand. Second place went to the girls tennis team.

At the end of the evening, students proceeded to the bonfire area. Members from the football team tossed in the dummy as everyone joined in the school song. All in all, this was a great start to Homecoming week. Everyone could hardly wait for tomorrow.

THE CURIOUS SAVAGE

This year's Homecoming Play, "The Curious Savage" was chosen by Mr. Ron Pennell as his last play. Mr. Pennell, a theatre director of many years at GCHS, chose this play for a special reason. It was the first play he performed in and the first he directed. He has decided to retire at the end of the year, leaving an important void that will be hard to fill.

"The Curious Savage", a play by John Patrick, is set in the 1950's. The main character, Mrs. Savage (Camille Fensterman) had been left ten million dollars by her late husband. She keeps the money in her teddy bear so no one will find it. She especially doesn't want her three stepchildren, Lily Belle (Tracy Hatley), Titus (Richie Skirball) and Samuel (Andy Elliff), to find the bonds. They want to prove her crazy to receive the money.

While staying there she meets different people, but ones she grows to love. Florence (Lora Smallman) carries a baby doll around thinking it is her five year old son. Hannibal (Dave Elliff) believes he can play the violin. Fairy May (Megan Bilyeu) has a spunky personality and loves for people to say how great she is. Jeffrey (Tony Mell) was in the war and believes he has a scar on his face. Mrs. Paddy (Susan Gauvin) speaks only to say the things she hates. She thinks she can paint a pretty seascape.

Miss Wilhelmina (Amy Krieshok) and Dr. Emmett (Andy Ravanelli) help prove Mrs. Savage is sane and can use her money to help people realize their dreams. They tricked her stepchildren into believing the money was burnt up and they left her alone. She made so many new and wonderful friends there. In the end she helped them all realize their dreams.

MONDAY

MONDAY, OCTOBER 18, kicked off Homecoming Week at GCHS. The day was designated "COME AS YOU ARE" and "OPPOSITE SEX DAY". Some students brought the comfort of their homes to school by wearing their pajamas while others chose to dress as their opposite gender.

People came dressed in comfortable clothing. Some wore flannel pants, nightgowns, robes, and even slippers, they were pleasantly awoken by guys wearing their mother's clothes. Boys came dressed in skirts and dresses. Many of them wore make up, wigs, and carried purses. Boys weren't the only ones that dressed for this day. Girls came dressed in suits and other articles of clothing that were either taken out of their father's or brother's closets.

No matter how they dressed, one could surely see the school spirit in the hallways.

On TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19th, students were given the chance to dress up in a HAWAIIAN shirt or in "60's, 70's or 80's" clothing for homecoming week. Many showed their school spirit by participating in the festivities.

It was not difficult to spot a girl or guy strutting down the hall in a colorfully flowered shirt with a lei around his or her neck. Even a random grass skirt could be seen worn proudly by an enthused student.

Many put much thought and time into their 60's, 70's, and 80's, garb. Spirited male students, who looked like they just finished taking a shoot in Saturday Night Fever, were dressed in bell-bottom pants and goofy suit jackets. Many young ladies wore 60's and 70's style clothing as well. A number of the female students also dawned 80's clothing, wearing everything from jean jackets to sweatshirts tanktops to colorful tights and socks and when the ensemble was completed with crimped hair, the students looked like they just got back from a Tiffany concert.

Tuesday turned out to be a day of memorable past fads and of styles from the island state. It was a fun experience for all.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 20 was declared "COLOR" and "HAT" day. Many school spirited Granite City High School students wore the color designated for their class and hats of all styles and colors could be seen. Unfortunately, the hats were not allowed to be worn in classrooms but students displayed their creative hats throughout the hallways.

The class colors this year were as follows: seniors yellow, juniors blue, sophomores orange, freshman green and faculty and staff wore red. Many seniors wore their bright yellow "Senior 2000" Shirts with pride. Some students went all out and dressed entirely in their class color from head to toe.

On this day, hats of every kind were worn such as baseball caps, cowboy hats, stocking caps, sombreros and plenty of other creative ones. It was fun to see that hat hair did not stop many students.

There were no limitations on how much of a single color could be worn or what kind of ridiculous hat could be worn to school. The more outrageous people became, the better. School spirit and class pride were plain to see all across the Granite City campus because of class color and hat day.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21 was designated "TWIN" and "NERD" day of Homecoming week at GCHS. It was a day the students and faculty were able to unleash their inner nerd, pick a friend to be twins with for the day, or to even mix the two styles and be twin nerds.

Those who were brave enough to sport the nerd look dug through their closets and dressers, searching for suspenders, plaid pants, pocket protectors, taped up glasses, and any thing else to help them achieve the "geek persona". Many also chose to wear their hair in a nerdy style that day. Several girls were seen sporting three ponytails in addition to guys with slicked down or side part styles. Some participants actually spent money to look like a true nerd, shopping at local thrift stores for their Urkel inspired outfits.

Other students planned days or weeks in advance to match their friends for twin day. People found similar looking pairs of shirts, pants, shoes, socks, etc. to become twins for the day. Some chose to wear matching tech vests, resembling the twins from the popular "Old Navy" television ads. Many others were seen in matching N'SYNC or Britney Spears shirts. While several chose to mix the nerd and twin themes into a magnificent "Twin-Nerds" to roam the halls.

Thursday turned out to be a fun and exciting day at Granite City High School. It was a great opportunity to show school spirit and be a little different for a day in the celebration of Homecoming.

1. ROW 1: Daniel Watson, Julie Whittington, Marissa Cox, Sarah Jackstadt, Jessica Fondren, Holly Bradshaw. Donnie Pugh shows his school spirit by dressing as a Warrior. 4. Students wait in anticipation for the pep rally to begin. 5. Andy Balcer dresses as a warrior to show school spirit. 6. Tony Click and Todd Brady wait for the fun to begin.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, was "SPIRIT" day, as you walked down the halls you could see red and black everywhere. Cheerleaders wore their uniforms to show their support for their teams. While football and soccer players wore their jerseys. The teachers and administrators show their spirit by wearing their Warrior shirts. Others took it to the extreme and wore Warrior costumes. This year there were Homecoming T-shirts sporting this year's theme, "Flush the Flyers". They were a popular item among some and so were the traditional Homecoming mum. Anywhere you looked school spirit was sure to be near.

The Pep Rally during seventh hour rose spirits even higher. The colorguard performed to Mambo #5. Next the Poms performed their routine. Coach Baker and Coach Petrillo both had the chance to speak highly of their teams. Mr. Sexy Legs (Jason Newman) and Ms. Sexy Legs (Ashley Slover) were then crowned by Courtney Bosworth, president of Red Peppers. Following, of course was the spirit cheer. Who would win, freshmen, sophomores, juniors or seniors? The freshmen and sophomores came no where near the spirit of the juniors and seniors. Who would it be? Sarah Moutria accepted the spirit stick on behalf of the winning juniors. What a better way to end the Pep Rally then with the school song performed by the band?

When students think about homecoming week one of the things that stands out most is the homecoming football game. Even if you don't know much about football this game can be an exciting event.

This year the GCHS Warriors faced off against the Flyers of East St. Louis. Our homecoming theme this year was Flush the Flyers. As students arrived at the game excitement filled the air. Students, teachers, and various members of the community were ready for an eventful night. The football team gave fans just that. East St. Louis started out ahead but that only made GCHS more determined to come out with a victory.

Since it was the homecoming game there was some extra special entertainment at half time. The poms gave another fabulous performance. Then the marching band and colorguard dazzled spectators with their incredible "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory" routine. The homecoming court participated in the festivities by riding around the track for all to see. The cheerleading squads did an outstanding job getting the crowd fired up.

In the end all the time and preparation that went into making the game special paid off. The Warriors were able to give the fans what they wanted; a victory. The final score was 23-12 in favor of GCHS.

SPIRIT LEADS TO VICTORY

It's the bottom of the ninth and your team is behind 6-5. The bases are loaded and your homerun hitter is up to bat. With only one swing left, he hits a grand slam. During the fourth quarter with only three minutes to go, the score is tied. It seems to stay that way for over two minutes. Now there are only a few seconds left and your team s-c-o-r-e-s. The fans go crazy and loud with excitement.

Many of these cheerful and most spirited fans are seniors. They usually have a favorite team and attend most of the games cheering and yelling for another victory. These students are essential fans.

School spirit is very important in any high school and especially significant for the teams. It is encouraging for a member of a team to hear their fellow seniors yell, sing, and chant victory songs. Large crowds with banners and school colors motivate the players and may possibly help determine an intense winning situation.

What would it be like without these loyal fans? What if one of our school teams won an overwhelming victory and there were no fans. The bleachers would be empty and silence would fill the air. It almost sounds ridiculous and incredibly boring. At a moment like this, team members enjoy sharing their victory with everyone around them.

We couldn't have fans without teams, but most importantly, we couldn't have an enthusiastic team without the constant support and encouragement of the fans. Fans love sports and the sports players love fans ... and that's the way it should be.

SCHOLARSHIPS

When choosing a college, students must consider many factors to help decide which school is best made for him or her. One has to consider location, atmosphere, fields of study, rating compared to other schools and, of course, cost. Many students do not have the funds for their college regime and therefore have to apply for scholarships.

Scholarships are difficult to acquire and rightfully so. The money is given to you with no debt, so the students who will not make proper use of it must be separated. If your mom gives you milk money but finds out you blow it all on candy, she will take it away. The same idea goes with scholarships. You must continue to earn them. Also, colleges would like to have many different individuals who are involved in the decision making process of who does and who does not receive aid. However, if the necessary time is set aside to try and obtain a scholarship, it can be done.

There are a few things to know before searching for scholarships. It helps if one knows what they are going to study. This way one is able to narrow his or her applications to scholarships in that field and also narrow the number of people trying to acquire that scholarship. It is also possible that a parent's workplace supplies scholarships. Some students may be able to receive aid from the business they are going to work at after college though many students do not know where they will work yet.

It does take some effort to try and receive scholarships, but if the effort is there the scholarships will be too.

BEANIE BABY MANIA

How many of you collect beanie babies? Every time this question is asked, the answer seems to always increase. Ty Beanie Babies have become very popular, and people of all ages collect them.

Beanie babies started in 1993 as a sales promotion. The original beanie was a teddy bear with a dollar sign on it. Though they were made in 1993, beanie babies became popular in 1995. Ty Warner, the owner of Ty Incorporated, is also the designer of the beanie baby.

Ty Inc. has produced more than 225 different beanie babies. Each beanie has its own name, birth date, and poem written on a heart-shaped tag attached to it. Beanie babies range from Waddle the Penguin, Roary the Lion, Gypsy the Dog, and Diddle the Rooster, to Inky the Octopus, Paul the Warmer, Kiwi the Triceratops, Tank the Armadillo, and Mack the Cardinal. You can find almost any animal in a beanie baby.

Beanie babies have become popular world-wide and can be bought almost anywhere. Specialty shops, antique stores, hobby stores, gift shops, and malls are just a few places they are sold. Beanie babies can also be bought on television and on the internet. McDonalds and sporting events also sell and give away beanie babies. Several beanie teddy bears are named after famous baseball players, such as Mark McGwire and Sammy Sosa.

Most beanie babies cost about six dollars but others can be sold and bought for hundreds of dollars. Characters no longer in production, or retired beanie babies, fetch hundreds of dollars among collectors. Beanie babies that are made with defects are worth more than others.

Since the enormous population of beanie babies, Ty Inc. has come out with teeny beanie, beanie buddies, as well as accessories for their products. You can now buy clothes, sleeping bags, plastic tag protectors, and other accessories for your little beanie baby.

Beanie Babies have triggered a buying frenzy. Many people collect them, but everyone collects them for different reasons. Some may collect them because they are cute and adorable. Others may collect beanie babies in hope that they will be worth much money later in life. Yet, some may collect them simply because it's something to collect.

On Tuesday August 31, 1999 there was an astonishing announcement made on the Ty Inc. website. The announcement read as follows, "Very Important Notice: On December 31, 1999 — 11:59 p.m. (CST) all Beanie Babies will be retired — including the above!" This announcement proceeded a black out of the website. This announcement started a buying frenzy.

On January 2, 2000 the Ty Inc. website held a vote for the public. People logging onto the website could vote whether or not the beanie babies should be kept in production. The final vote was a majority 92% for keeping the beanie babies in production.

Beanie babies can be found anywhere and everywhere. They are a popular and searched for item. Beanie babies are sure to be seen for many more years.

SEARCH AND RESEARCH

Research papers are one of the chief causes of stress and possibly mental anguish for many students. One leading cause is the requirements for the paper. While most teachers require their research paper to be an average of 3-8 pages (depending on the class), they also want quality information included in those pages.

They don't want just any information, they want information from numerous sources. From every teacher's mouth must come the words "you must have at least five sources." These requirements give rise to questions such as "Isn't it enough just to have a paper to turn in?" and "What ever happened to the old fast way of copying an entire article from a single encyclopedia?"

But to be realistic, to have quality information means to do mega-researching. This is where the students must put in hours of work. Sometimes students don't realize what a research paper means. It means they've got to search and search and search and then research. It means beginning early enough to have 150 notecards and not begin searching a few days before the paper is due. It means indeterminism and procrastination must not get the best of you.

Students find themselves forced to stay up late, make frequent evening trips to the library, call friends for help, or do whatever is necessary to finish their supposed-to-have-been-finished paper. They wonder if their fun, caring, loving, English teachers' sole purpose in life is to see good students suffer. And then they realize it's not. Their English teachers are there for them and they're not the cause of late night stress, anguish, and mental depletion. The blame falls on the students who make constant detours from their assigned task.

So, remember what you need to do. Get the information necessary, do it early enough, and make intelligent decisions. Choose the right route and follow it. It will lead you passed the pandemonium of multiple excuses, the evening hour library rat race, and guide you onward to excellence and satisfaction. Your research paper will be excellent and your English teacher satisfied ... what more could you want?

CAN I HELP YOU?

"Hello, Granite City High School, can I help you?" This greeting is used everyday by students at GCHS who aspire to become secretaries. In addition to future secretaries, students around campus work during free periods in almost every genre you can think of. From the library to the guidance office, the school couldn't run without the help of these talented individuals.

The term Office Workers refers to a large number of students. The attendance office workers are those you see at the attendance window; they make tardy slips, check early dismissal requests, collect teacher's scantron sheets, along with assisting the attendance secretaries. The registrar workers run passes for Mr. Kennerly, the switchboard operator answers phone calls, makes long distance calls for teachers, and takes messages.

The next branch of the office working tree includes the nurse and guidance workers. These students must contain confidentiality above all other duties. They must be trusted with tons of personal information which must be kept within the specific office. Guidance workers run TAC papers, file paperwork, and help out the guidance counselors in any way they can. The nurse's office workers have a hefty load of objectives everyday. Some of their many duties include sending for students, dealing with mail, alphabetizing emergency cards, and making out daily logs of students that appear in the nurse's office. In addition, they also make ice bags for injured students, handle incoming/outgoing phone calls, and on occasion, use the wheelchair to help out students. To become a nurse's office worker you must adhere to many set standards, some being having good attendance, passing grades, maintaining a positive attitude and being able to give up a study hall.

The science office contains another separate area of workers in the school. These students run errands and get lunch for science teachers, set up labs and do basic paperwork. These are as well, a select few that are a great help to the faculty at GCHS.

Without the help of the volunteer office students at GCHS, school would probably go on, but probably not

OUR FIRST 80 YEARS

Few retail businesses in Granite City can boast of remaining in business for eighty years, but Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shops, Inc. can claim this honor. Since 1920 until the present, three generations of Seibold's have carried the family business to where it is today.

Reinhold Seibold along with his brother Herman came to America during the German Immigration prior to World War I. The two came to St. Louis to join their cousins and worked as bakers in St. Louis. When Reinhold earned enough money, he sent for his wife, Wilhelmina, to join him. Eventually the two brothers struck out on their own and opened their bakery here in Granite City. Each day they would travel across McKinley Bridge on a streetcar from their home in the German neighborhood of Hyde Park.

In 1920, Reinhold and Herman opened the Seibold Brothers' Bakery on 20th Street. Several years later, Herman became ill and Reinhold bought his brother's interest in the bakery. Soon after the buyout, the bakery was renamed Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shop.

Reinhold and Wilhelmina (known as Minnie) had five children, all who from an early age, worked in the family business. They had four boys and a girl: Reinhold Jr., Charles, William, Edwin, Elsie. With the help of their children and a few employees, they built a successful retail and wholesale business.

With the outbreak of World War II, the four boys left to serve in the military. Times were difficult, but Minnie, along with her daughter, kept the business operating. To make the situation worse, Minnie's husband had fallen ill. After the war, the sons came home and the bakery tradition continued. In the Spring of 1947, Reinhold Sr. died of heart complications.

Under the direction of their mother, the children continued what their father started. In 1950, a branch location was opened in downtown Wood River. In 1955, the bakery became a corporation with the intention of expanding their locations. From 1958 on, the Seibold's opened four more locations. Presently they are located in Wood River, East Alton, two in Edwardsville, and two in Granite City.

In 1960 with the growth of the business, the main baking facility at 2241 Madison Avenue doubled in size. With the expanded space, more products could be produced and offered to the public.

Of the Seibold children, only Elsie and Edwin were the only siblings to have children of their own. Elsie's daughters and son helped in the business at some point in their lives but none chose to stay. Edwin and Della Seibold's children make up the third generation that has carried on the tradition.

At age 16, their daughter Carol worked as a storegirl until graduating from high school. Carol worked for D'Orsey Advertising in St. Louis and later for Travelers Insurance Company. In the mid 1980's, Carol joined the company once again on a full time basis. She coordinates the office, the sales clerks and customer relations and is part owner.

Their older son, Larry, worked everything from window washing, cleanup, to baking through high school and college. After graduating from SIU-E in 1975, Larry joined the company full time and is now a corporate officer, part owner and in charge of baking and two shifts of bakers.

The youngest son, Michael, worked summers during high school and college in the product finishing department. After graduating from Eastern Illinois University, he joined the company. He is also a corporate officer and part owner. His main responsibilities include bookkeeping, product development, store coordination, and leading the finishing department.

Today Edwin and Della Seibold are retired but very much still active in the business. Minnie Seibold died in 1979 at the age of 88. Reinhold Jr. died in 1981 at the age of 80. Wilhelmina died in 1982 at the age of 80. The Seibold family is now in the fourth generation.

As far as the future is concerned, the business will continue as long as the public demand for the products continues. The fourth generation has helped too, but it is their decision to join the company or find their own interest, which is what they should do.

500 HOMERUNS AND COUNTING

The last three years the St. Louis Cardinals have become birds of pattern. Some injured pitchers, some off-season trades gone awry, and quite a few fans unhappy with the outcome. However, one man has managed to keep a very positive pattern and fans in the seats. Of course the referral is to number twenty-five. Another subpar season for the Cardinals, but another milestone for Mark McGwire.

The past couple seasons McGwire has set the record for most homeruns in a season, first player to hit fifty homeruns in three, four counting this year, consecutive seasons, and other amazing feats that the fans cannot quit watching. This season McGwire dazzled us by hitting his five hundredth homerun.

It came in the third inning of a game against the San Diego Padres on Thursday, August 5th, 1999. It was a classic McGwire homerun. A towering drive beyond the center field fence which ended up traveling 451 feet. Fifteen other players have hit 500 homeruns or more, including greats like Reggie Jackson, Mickey Mantle, Babe Ruth, Hank Aaron, Ted Williams, and Mike Schmidt to name a few. However, McGwire reached this elite standard in 5,487 at-bats, faster than any other player in baseball history. Others were younger when they reached the plateau, but McGwire was hindered by injuries much of the early nineties. If he had not been injured he might have been reaching his six or even seven hundredth homerun this season, although he still has time for those later.

McGwire finished the season with 65 homeruns, second in the record books only to the seventy he hit last year for most homeruns in a single season. By the end of the season he had 522 career homeruns, the ninth greatest total ever and he still has a few seasons left in him to move even further up the list.

Hopefully, he will remain a Cardinal throughout all of his milestones. The Cardinal fans will continue to yell and cheer for him at every game. St. Louis just cannot get enough of Mark McGwire.

SAVE OR SPEND?

A simple fact of life for everyone is that they must earn money. At some point in their lives they will have to get a job to receive payment, to in turn pay their bills. But, a more debatable issue is what to do with the surplus, should one spend or save?

Saving, which is the less popular of the two, is probably the best road to take. One can save by going to their local bank or credit union and open a savings account. This way one can put their money in it and it will gain some interest. If one puts his or her money in the account on the day it is received, it is probably the smarter approach, because if money sits too long, it tends to disappear. Another safe investment is a government savings bond. It may mature to double its worth within a matter of a couple of years.

Even though saving is the more practical approach, the more popular trend is to spend. Young people are constantly buying things they do not need like c d s, playstations, and other useless items. These people feel that money is made to be spent. Some spenders could spend an entire paycheck in as little as two days.

Luckily, students usually do not have the responsibility of paying bills such as rent or utilities, so they may spend freely, while others like to save for a rainy day.

THE MAGICAL POWERS OF TWIP

Last year's yearbook editors and staff came up with an idea about doing a story on TWIP — the non-existent product that can do anything. Anyone who watches TV LAND knows about this amazing wonder. The only problem with doing the story last year was the problem of space — there was not enough room in the senior section for it. So we all decided to include it in the 2000 book. Here it is:

The luncheon in the back yard tastes better with Twip. The little cowboy doesn't like his mashed potatoes. Put some Twip on them. The laundry is brighter with Twip. Don't stay out in the sun too long without Twip. No energy this morning? drink some Twip.

Only the people who are regular viewers of TV LAND know the powers of Twip. Can anyone buy Twip? Twip is available only in TV LAND.

Twip is anything you want it to be. It could be a tasty energy drink, an industrial strength product, something you use in your car, a healthy snack, or even a game. It is never priced too high, and is always available for purchase. It makes everyone who uses it happy and proud to be an American.

Manny may drink some Twip in the morning to get a good start on his crime-fighting day. June may use Twip to wash the Beaver's dirty socks she found under his bed. Oliver and Lisa Doodles would probably use Twip to get a good harvest of wheat. If they run out of Twip, Mr. Haney would sell Oliver some from the back of his truck.

Twip also brings magical powers to Jeanie and helps Major Nelson with all his space assignments. Hogan, on the other hand, might use Twip to send secret messages back to the USA from his camp in Germany.

Now that we know how Twip might help some of our favorite TV LAND characters, how would this universal product help the seniors of GCHS? How would they use Twip and what would Twip mean to them?

"Twip would be a computer that never needs upgrading." (Richard Tipton). "It's a lightbulb that never needs changing." (Chad Shinnick). "Twip is a woman that never complains." (Bobby Mezzanisi). "The product would be gum that never loses its flavor." (Bill Cappel). "Twip is clothing that will never get dirty, or stained, have to be washed, or sent to the cleaners." (Michelle Charbonnier). "Twip is a rotating closet that never stops rotating with different clothing." (Beth Sebold). "Twip would be a clone of myself so I'm not so busy all of the time," (Lesa Byrd).

FIX IT - PAINT IT - BUILD IT

The last couple of decades, GCHS vocational classes have planned and built houses for the Granite City Home Foundation. The Home Foundation purchases the lot and gives it to GCHS so the students can begin the massive chore.

Students in vocational drafting, taught by David Trower, set the plans for the house. Once the house is ready to be built, students from both vocational electronics and vocational building trades, which are taught by Gus Lignoul and John Boushara, proceed to begin the building. Bellevue Area College handles setting up the heating and cooling systems for the house.

The project is underway from the beginning of school until the middle of May. This is the fourteenth project done in this fashion. Ten two-year projects have been completed by vocational classes as well as the GCHS Hall of Fame building located at the entrance to the football field.

This year the students are building the house at 2309 East 23rd street. The students apply plenty of hard work toward the project, and finish with a great accomplishment.

"It's hard work, but it is fun and a great learning experience." Donnie Pugh

"This is a very educational class. It's a hands' on class and it helps you with team work." Mark Dodd

"You learn about everyday maintenance, so we can save money in the future by doing our own work." James Rogers

"It helps you get a start in the industry, and that can be very useful." Arthur Johnson

"Building trades is fun and a learning experience." David Brooks

"This class gets you ready for the real world." Alan Jakul

"It is sometimes freezing cold out there until the heater kicks in and everything warms up." Jeff Padgett

TWO FUN-FILLED HOURS

Vocational Child Care at GCHS has a reputation of being one of the most fun and rewarding courses offered. For this two hour class, young adults work with preschool aged children in a relaxed, informal atmosphere. The lone requirement is a one hour lecture child development class, in which students learn some of the basic needs of young children.

When enrolled in the class, each student is assigned a child or group of children which they must watch for two hours each day. Although the students are monitored closely by their teacher to ensure that proper care is provided, the children are the students responsibility for the duration of the course.

Some of the other tasks of the students are to organize activities throughout the semester. These are exciting for both students and children. Some annual events include trick-or-treating throughout the halls on Halloween and performing a Christmas play sometime during the holiday season.

Vocational Child Care students learn many lessons and new skills that can only be obtained through hands-on experience. The class is vital for those interested in the teaching profession, or any career involving children. In addition to the benefits the students received, the children that participate in the day care program, especially those that have working parents and no older sibling at home, immensely benefit from having a responsible teen role model to look up to and admire.

By the end of the course, the children and students formed a special bond. With tearful farewells, the class will be remembered for a lifetime by all.

A GROUP OF CRAFTY PEOPLE

Stagecraft is something popular with students interested in the production of plays. Students in Advanced performance and tech theatre construct settings for the productions of the homecoming play, winter play, and spring musical.

Students in these classes agree that it is time consuming, but a very enjoyable and worthwhile task. Megan Bilyeu comments, "I enjoy stagecraft. It is hard work, but it is an enlightening experience and very fun."

Hours of long hard work and dedication are the necessary factors involved in the stagecraft productions. It is the 'behind-the-scenes' type of work supervised by Beverley Scroggins. Students help Mrs. Scroggins with the sound system, lighting, props, changing scenery between acts, special effects, and much more.

Stagecraft students take on a great responsibility. Their time is always valuable because of the deadlines they have to meet. There are many students who stay after school to work on the scenery and help with whatever needs to be constructed or repaired. They are always there for Mrs. Scroggins when she needs their assistance.

The students do a commendable job making the stage and having the finished project turn out as great as the acting done on it. We all thank you.

ELVIS HAS LEFT THE BUILDING

Viva Las Vegas! This expression has been heard by most people and conjures visions of gambling, skimpy clad show girls, and more gambling. This may have been true in the past but, Las Vegas now has so much more to offer.

An estimated 32.2 million people visit Las Vegas every year. Much of the increase in tourism is due to the fact that Las Vegas has become a family vacation destination spot. Many hotels have promoted themselves as being family friendly in order to reach another group and segment of the population.

Las Vegas can boast of having the largest hotel in the world, the MGM Grand. Many of the other well known hotels have been raised to make room for bigger, more ornate, and more grand hotels. Some hotels that fit this description include Bellagio, the Venetian, Paris, and Mandalay Bay. Each is more magnificent than the other in their own way.

As mentioned, Las Vegas is family friendly. Hotels such as the MGM Grand, the Excalibur, Harrah's, the Stratosphere, the Flamingo Hilton, the Mirage, the Luxor, Circus Circus, and New York New York, encourage families to stay with them. These hotels are so unique that children of all ages are mystified by their outside and inside appearances. All of these hotels have sophisticated game arcades, plenty of pool areas, retail shops of all kinds, and even theme parks, roller coasters, and circus acts to entertain any age child.

As far as food, Las Vegas has it all. There is everything from Five Star French restaurants to fast food. There are many restaurants that are appealing to families. They include the Hard Rock Cafe, Planet Hollywood, The Dive, Motown, The All Star Cafe, the Niro Grill, and the Rain Forest Cafe. If none of those seem to fit a person's taste, there are numerous, great tasting, inexpensive buffets.

Entertainment is synonymous with Las Vegas. While there is still the risque, there are many venues appropriate for families. These include Siegfried and Roy at the Mirage, The Legends in Concert at the Imperial Palace, EFX at the MGM Grand, and the jousting matches at the Excalibur. For a totally free experience, there is the pirate battle at Treasure Island, the erupting volcano at the Mirage, the dancing waters at Bellagio's, and the Greek God show at Caesar's Palace Forum area. Las Vegas is truly a destination for people of all ages.

The expression, 'Viva Las Vegas', certainly fits this wondrous city. Elvis has left the building, but he can be seen all over town. If you spot Elvis, say 'hello' to him from Granite City.

FAN APPRECIATION DAY

With an over-flowing crowd of standing room only, Busch Stadium was aglow with Cardinal red and Cubs blue. The enthusiastic fans rocked the stadium with cheers and whistles as the last game of the season began. Mark McGwire hit Number 65, Sammy Sosa hit Number 63, and Fernando Tatis ending the season with 33 home runs.

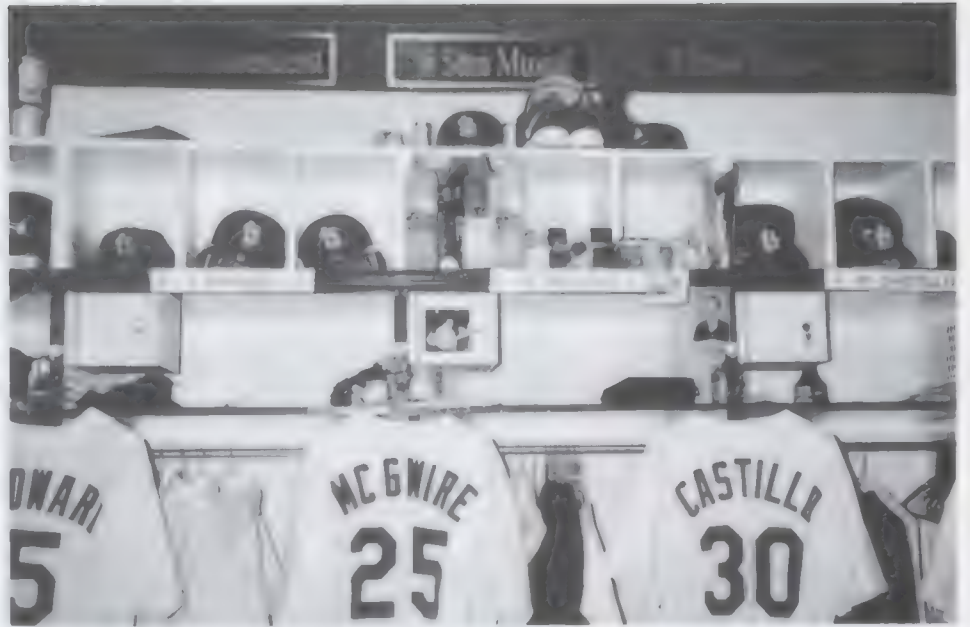

The score was 5-4, Cardinals in the lead. Everything seemed OK until the fifth inning when it began raining. It rained, it stopped, and it began to rain again. Devoted fans and season ticket holders become restless after waiting for approximately one hour for something to happen. The only action on the field was the ground crew covering and uncovering the field.

Then it happened. The umpires called the game in the middle of the fifth inning. Since the home team was winning, it was an official game and all the homeruns went into the record book.

Because of such overwhelming support, the Cardinals thanked season ticket holders by having a Fan Appreciation Day on October 9. Busch Stadium was opened exclusively to season ticket holders to enjoy photo opportunities with past and present Cardinals. They also were able to tour the Clubhouse and participate in on field games.

Even though the team's performance fell short of everyone's expectations, McGwire's 500th home-run and the emergence of Tatis and pitcher Kent Bottenfield as all star caliber players produced many memorable moments at the stadium.

MIX AND MATCH

Fashion is an expression of one's personality. It shows his or her sense of style through their likes and dislikes. It could be considered another form of artwork. There is much more to fashion than just putting on a pair of pants and a blouse. There is mixing and matching tops and bottoms, picking the accessories that liven up the outfit, the fab hairdo, and of course the shoes.

New fads come and go. What was popular in fashion five years ago isn't necessarily popular now. The world is a changing place and fashion is no exception. Throughout the century, fashion has changed drastically.

In the beginning of the twentieth century, men wore suits and top hats. Women would be found in lacy, hoop dresses that covered most of their body. The 1920's and 30's brought along smaller dresses for women. Women were allowed to show more skin, and men were still found in their suits.

The 50's brought Lucille Ball and capri pants. It was finally acceptable for women to be seen in pants. Men still wore suits on a daily basis, but the suits were more casual. The 1960's came and brought the Beatles. The Beatles wore boots, tighter pants, and leather. The more popular the Beatles became the more they were imitated. In the 1970's, fashion took a turn to bright colors and extreme fashions. The look of the 70's was bell bottoms, platforms, bright colors, and flower power.

The 1980's came along and everything got more extreme. Feathered hair, tight rolled pants, and torn clothes became the trend. The 1990's became a combination of the 60's, 70's, and 80's.

The fashion world has come a long way since the beginning of the twentieth century. The twenty-first century is here and it is sure to bring another combination of change. What the change will be, no one knows, but it is sure to be interesting.

THE BIG TONKA TOY

The most common transportation vehicles on campus are cars. However, in between some of the parked cars there are a few trucks.

Cars and trucks are similar in many ways. They can both be big or small, foreign or American, in good condition or in really bad shape. Cars and trucks can be different in many ways as well.

Trucks have more space for hauling objects. Cars have more space for hauling people. Trucks are big and can handle rough terrain. Cars are small and can weave inside city traffic or obtain that last little parking lot space. Whatever the differences may be, truck owners definitely love their trucks and would never consider parting with them or ever owning a car.

The desire to own a truck may have stemmed from early childhood. Truck owners may remember playing with their big tough, canary yellow Tonka trucks. These trucks could take the worst that any sandbox or backyard could offer. They could climb over any dirt or sand pile and not get stuck. They could also haul a small pet around the yard with them to share the ride. It was a sturdy play toy that belonged to them and not their parents. It was their truck.

Whatever the reasons, these teenage student truck owners are loyal to their vehicles. They pamper them, talk to them, and continuously wash them. The little girls with the small Tonka trucks are now big girls with big trucks. And they park them in the senior lot at GCHS.

SECURITY TO GO

Upon entering school, some students may have noticed changes at GCHS. Almost everyone knows that last year GCHS was given a school resource officer, Officer Popmarkoff, and new security cameras. This year security was once again increased.

One of the more noticeable changes is the school security car. This vehicle is used by Beverly Golden, campus monitor. The car enables her to keep a closer eye on what is happening with the students on and off campus. She can use this car to patrol the perimeter of the school and to track down those students suspected of skipping.

Another change that most students were probably aware of before the commencement of the school year was the policy regarding the dress code. It is now against the rules to have unnatural hair color to school. For example, changing your hair from blonde to brown is permitted, but red, green, blue, and pink are not acceptable. The policy on body piercing has also changed. Excessive face or body piercing is now banned from GCHS. The term "excessive" will be determined on a case to case basis. It is also not permitted for students to wear big hoop earrings.

All students have participated in fire drills and tornado drills at school. There has not been an armed intruder drill.

In addition to all the new equipment and policies some of the old school security devices were updated. We are getting bids on additional cameras but none have been installed. Students may have also noticed a new face, Officer Kate Schrader, the new probation officer.

With all the new security measures the school has implemented, this school will hopefully be a much safer place.

COLD FANS, WARM HEARTS

A sport that has been rising in popularity for the past few years is hockey. Students are finding themselves going to more and more high school games. They are also attending more NHL games. Although the state team is the Chicago Blackhawks, most people favor their rivals, the St. Louis Blues.

Most people that love hockey love it for its intense, fast-paced manner. They love the fights, the checking, and most of all, the victories.

Imagine twelve men on the ice, preparing to play. The crowd is roaring as various, fast-paced songs are played to ignite the players as well as the audience. The puck is dropped, and play begins. Either goalie Roman Turek or Jarne McLennan crouches in anticipation. Team captain, Chris Pronger, pushes the puck to the opposing end as Al MacInnis defends the goalie at the Blue's end of the ice. As one player is checked too hard, or a cheap shot is taken, team enforcer, Kelly Chase, races to the play to show that the team will not take unsportsmanlike conduct.

One of the most exciting events at a hockey game is a goal. Whether it is the first of a game, a record-breaker, a game winner, or a tie-breaker, a goal can make a dull game thrilling. Ron Baechle, or the Tower Man, attends each game, so when a goal is scored by the Blues, he excites the crowd by having them tally each one. After every goal, he comes out of his seat, encourages everyone to yell and count the number of goals that the Blues have scored, then throws a towel into the crowd.

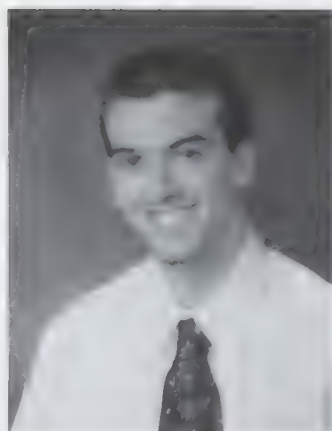

Another reason why people enjoy hockey is because it is very physical. Even when no one is fighting, the checking, bumping, and poking can fire up the team, as well as the fans. The boards are an important tool for the team. The players can bounce the puck off of them to maneuver around an opponent, or to level a member of the other team. The physical aspect of hockey probably is the most enthralling for the fans and team alike.

The popularity of hockey has skyrocketed in the past few years. Once people attend or watch an exciting game, they are usually hooked. Each year, around the halls of GCHS, students see more and more hockey attire. Most students enjoy watching the St. Louis Blues because they are the closest Hockey team to Granite City, and they are developing into a winning team.

JANUARY GRADUATION

Some of the students at Granite City High School are given the option of graduating one semester early. Due to their hard work and effort in completing their required courses, these students are rewarded by having the opportunity to graduate in January.

All the endless hours of homework, the late night studying and survival of the toughest quizzes, tests, and final exams finally paid off. Because of their ambition and extra classes, the students have now reached the end of their high school career.

A special ceremony is held for all the students choosing this option of graduating early. Family, friends, and relatives gather in the auditorium to watch their special senior walk across the stage for the last time as a high school student.

PRAIRIE STATE ACHIEVEMENT TEST

Well juniors, how was it? As some of you may already know, the Prairie State Achievement Test was given during February this year. Students don't fret, the school is not adding another test. The Illinois State Board of Education has decided to administer the Prairie State Achievement Test instead of the junior level IGAP (which tested science and social studies). The ISAT was still given to sophomores for reading, writing, and math. This year was only a pilot for the Prairie State Achievement Test. That means it was similar to a practice test in which only one randomly selected portion of the test was distributed to each student. Only one hour was allowed to complete that portion of the test. The first actual Prairie State Achievement Test will be taken by juniors during Spring 2001.

The Prairie State Achievement Test is a cumulative test over all of Illinois Learning Standards which students learn from Kindergarten through twelfth grade, stated Mrs. Gagich. The test will cover math, science, social science, and English which includes reading and writing. One hour will be spent to complete each of the five sections.

This is an important test and should be taken seriously. Each student's scores will be listed on their permanent record, so don't forget to get enough sleep, eat a good breakfast, and put forth your best effort.

LET THERE BE (BRIGHT) LIGHT

Throughout the past, the Granite City School Board along with the community have worked very hard in the renovation and upkeep of our schools. Starting with the renovation of the Hall of Fame building and continuing through the high school renovation, everything looks great. Now the renovation of the middle schools will bring more visual beauty to the district. But the money can only go so far.

It has come to the attention of a few of Granite City High School alumni that the scoreboard area is in desperate need for new lighting. The current lights that shine on the field are 30 years old and are extremely inadequate for the high tech world we live in today.

If any of you has gone to a recent football or basketball game, or even last year's commencement, and tried to take the event, you probably found that the lighting was so dark to make anything out on the field. The new lighting, if installed, will make our Memorial the best lighted high school facility in the Midwest. The lights will consist of four steel poles, each with 10 lights per pole.

The committee consists of past graduates: Conrad "Butch" Champ, Quilchou, York, and Keith Gering, David Dornick, Tim S. Hickey, Bob Sherry, and Jerry McKeehan. They have mapped out a plan to pay for the lights. With the sale of bricks to the community, you can purchase a spot of immortality. The bricks can be used as mementos to their loved ones, a reminder of a special event, or just a simple name.

The bricks will be used to pave a path between the Hall of Fame entrance and the current track location. The goal for the committee is to have the lights ready for the summer event in 2000. If this does not happen, it will eventually be purchased. All good things are worth the wait.

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THE LOGO?

Shopping for school clothes can sometimes be a stressful situation. Deciding what stores to go to is often a difficult decision to make. Luckily, teens can look to television and magazines for the latest trends and fashions. Many stores such as GAP, Old Navy, and Abercrombie and Fitch target their commercials and magazine ads towards teens.

GAP has a number of commercials with different dances to promote their brands. Recently they have introduced a series of commercials where the models are singing older popular tunes to promote their vests, cord armbands, and leather jackets. Also, the recognizable blue square GAP logo is throughout magazines targeted to teenage readers.

Old Navy commercials are some of the funniest. The recently appeared ones of Rupal, Tia and Tamara Mowery, Sherman Helmy, and Morgan Fairchild make these commercials some of the most popular. These commercials have made items such as Tech Vests and Performance Fleece, very popular items around GCHS. With the help of these commercials, Old Navy is one of the best selling clothing brands in the St. Louis area.

Abercrombie and Fitch is another well known store. Though they do not have many commercials, they still remain one of the most popular stores for the teenage generation. They have many catalogues that are available at the stores which advertises their many types of clothing. Plus, with the help of LFO's song, "Summer Girls," with the line that states, "I like girls that wear Abercrombie and Fitch...", gave the store plenty of radio advertising over the past year.

With all the different selections at all the various stores, buying clothes is definitely full of choices. Mastercard, VISA, American Express, Discover Card, or just plain cash.

COLOR ME BRIGHT YELLOW

Throughout the century, hairstyles have drastically changed. There has been the flat-top, the Elvis, the greaser, and of course the feathering and flaring. One trend that has been around for years is women pulling their hair. Many women of all ages have chosen to have their hair pulled out to have the color they've always wanted. So, I would think that many men would pull out their hair as today. They not only put color on it to cover their 'gray', but now the younger generation decided to go blonde.

In recent years, teenagers have been pulling their hair blue, purple, green, red, even rainbow colors. The trend now is for guys to color their hair bleached-blond. It is a growing trend that many boys on campus seem to be doing.

It used to be that guys who pulled their hair a bright yellow color, but now the boys are purchasing items from the hair coloring sections of the store too. Wherever you look at GCHS, you'll see unique and wild hairstyles colored yellow.

What does it take to know this unique look? For some, the daily routine of creating the special look is maddening, blow drying, spraying, and brushing. Others, however, choose not to go through these time-consuming steps and simply get a very short haircut or shave most of it off. Whatever the style may be, the color is bright blonde.

The world is changing plans and colors are in the air. Every day is different and it is the ever-changing color of hair. Today it is bleached-blond, but who knows what colors tomorrow may bring.

HOP TO IT, SPEED IT UP, MOVE ALONG

Granite City High School has undergone a great many changes over the last few years. One of the important changes include the time schedule. Time is very important to students. They must learn to budget their time wisely to get everything done. If students budget their time incorrectly, no time is left. Ooops! Every minute is important. Here are some changes we thought you would like to know.

Ring!!! You now have only six minutes to get to your next class compared to last year's seven minutes. The extra minute was included with class time in order to meet the required amount of minutes for class instruction.

How do you spend your six minutes? Many people stop at their locker to get the materials for their next class. Some take this time to use the restroom. Many students stop to socialize with friends until the minute bell calls them to class. No matter what you do each minute becomes precious, especially when you're running late for class.

Another change was also made in the time schedule. It was determined that first, fourth, and fifth hour were much longer than the rest of the hours. If added together, these three hours would equal one half of the day at school. The length of these three hours were shortened to approximately 58 minutes to keep each hour more evenly divided. Now, similar classes will have the same amount of instruction time.

If you're running late to class it may be because of the lost minute between classes. If you have less time to finish work in first, fourth, and fifth hour, it may be because these hours were shortened. The changes in the time schedule may be a hassle to some of you but they are necessary and cannot be changed. The only thing that will have to change is 'you' moving a little faster.

LOOKING HOT IS COOL

A junior boy casually steps out of his new sports car. Attired from head to toe in Gap, he checked his appearance in the mirror. Extremely satisfied with his appearance, he began his strut through the parking lot to the main building.

Within seconds, he was surrounded by young women dressed in the latest fashions. The group moved toward the school looking hot, looking good, but most of all, looking cool. Everyone stared in awe and wished they were that cool.

Outward conceptions of coolness vary. What is considered cool to the guy in second-hour physics sporting baggy overalls may not be considered cool to the girl in fifth-hour geometry sporting neon spandex. Everyone has their own unique fashion sense.

Hairstyles and accessories also allow for great amounts of personal expression and are accordingly subject to many different standards of coolness. Some students are able to get ready for school in ten minutes while others need at least an hour to achieve their look.

Your attitude is another factor in being cool. No one wants to listen to someone whine all day or be an old grouch. Positive attitude and cheerfulness is a big plus for coolness. Despite the many different ideas of physical coolness, the standards for inner coolness are often consistent.

That's why most students agree that being cool is being yourself ... and that's very cool.

THE ACT & SAT

Have you been thinking about college? If you are a junior who plans to go to college, now is the time to get serious and start planning your future. It would be beneficial to keep up your academics, visit colleges, and search for scholarships. Now is also the time to take college tests, primarily the ACT's (American College Testing) and the SAT's (Scholastic Aptitude Test). These tests are very important because almost all four year colleges require scores from one of them depending on the school. Quite a bit of time will be spent on these tests so start thinking about them early.

Registration forms for the ACT and SAT can be picked up in the guidance office. Up to an hour may be spent on these forms answering questions. Your counselor may answer any of your questions. It is very helpful to make a copy of this registration form in case you plan on taking it again. Send the registration form and fee as early as possible.

Many things can help improve your grade. For example, classes, books, and CD Rom can help you review information. Timing yourself on practice tests can be helpful. Other recommended tips are to get plenty of sleep, eat a good breakfast, and organize materials. Also plan to wear comfortable clothing in layers so that you are never too hot or too cold. Bring a watch to check the time and a light snack for breaks. If possible do not sit near any distractions such as the air conditioner, windows, or familiar friends during the test.

The ACT's or SAT's are very important because this will be the test that determines your admission into college. Your preparation can contribute greatly to your grade on the ACT's or SAT's. Remember to study hard and stay optimistic. Good luck.

SCOOBY DOOBY DOO, WHERE ARE YOU?

What are the most influential parts of childhood? Parents, family, and friends are major parts of growing up, but cartoons shape imaginations and help to create the person you become. Everyone at some point in their childhood watched cartoons, had a favorite character, and made their parents go shopping for that favorite cartoon toy.

But even as teenagers, cartoons are a big part of life. The shows that are on for forty years seem to attract the flashbacks and questions about "Why does Scooby always go with Shaggy to investigate mysteries?"

Networks geared specifically for cartoons are very popular as well. Cartoon Network and Nickelodeon are two such television channels that offer on-stop cartoon viewing. While Nickelodeon does stop at around 8:00 in the evening to show the Nick-at-Nite lineup, Cartoon Network airs cartoons around the clock, seven days a week. Popular programs on this network include "Space Ghost Coast to Coast," "Dexter's Laboratory," and "Cow and Chicken," in addition to older shows like "Super Friends" and "Bartman." Nickelodeon offers their "Nickelodeon Studios" produced Nick Toons. These cartoons have first appeared in the early nineties. The lineup includes "Red Bull and Smiley," "Doug," and "Rugrats." Over the years, "Animaniacs," "Real Mummies," "CatDog," "Hey Arnold," and most recently "SpongeBob SquarePants" have been added while others have left the lineup for other networks. These shows all have a reputation for being somewhat profane but entertaining none the less.

No weekend could be complete without the ritual of watching Saturday Morning Cartoons. These shows are the staples of every kid's weekend. Over a bowl of cold Fruity Pebbles kids indulge in the wholesome antics of "Looney Tunes" or "Pokemon." The classic "Schoonhouse Rock" allows kids to participate in the educational ramifications of cartoons and have fun at the same time.

Without cartoons, society would be bland. They add color, laughter, and fun in our otherwise dull world. The emotions spurred by cartoons are a common bond in everyone's lives making them one of the most basic, yet important aspects of childhood.

MEET ME IN THE ATRIUM

Finding a place to stand in the morning can sometimes be a difficult task. Students crowd the hallway searching for a place to socialize. This has been a major problem for students and teachers who need to get in and out of classrooms.

During the renovation an atrium was added to help remedy the problem. The Atrium, which is conveniently located in front of the main office, provides a place for socializing in the morning. There are benches to sit on, plenty of room to stand, and even a phone to use before and after school and in between classes.

Before this year, the atrium wasn't a very familiar place. People used it for the phone and as an easier route to class, but not for much else. Now, its purpose is being served. Many students choose the atrium as a place to stand, rather than the hallway. They meet before and after school to discuss upcoming events. They also just stand around and chat. This makes teachers and students much happier with the hallway situation less crowded.

With the atrium added on and less crowded hallways, the school is less congested and easier to travel

1999 - 2000 - 2001 - 2002 - 2003

Beginning in 1999, the United States Mint is issuing new quarters. Each state is able to design its own 'tails' side, while the 'heads' side will remain uniform.

The order in which the quarters will be issued and introduced to the general public is based on the order the states were admitted into the union. Five states' quarters will be circulated each year. They are as follows:

1999: Delaware	Dec. 07, 1787	2001 New York	Jul 26, 1788
Pennsylvania	Dec. 12, 1787	North Carolina	Nov. 21, 1789

2000: Massachusetts	Feb. 06, 1788	2002 Tennessee	Jun. 01, 1796
Maryland	Apr. 28, 1788	Ohio	Mar. 01, 1803
South Carolina	May 23, 1788	Louisiana	Apr. 30, 1812
New Hampshire	Jun. 21, 1788	Indiana	Dec. 11, 1816

IT'S A PERSONAL THING

When driving through town, it is inevitable that you will notice other cars around you. What is the most noticeable thing about these vehicles? It is probably not the body of the car or the make and model. Most likely, you would notice their license plates.

When looking at license plates there are several different things you might see. You might see generic plates, personalized plates, or vanity plates. In addition to all the different types of plates there are also plates with different backgrounds to choose from. There are backgrounds with doves, colored backgrounds, and various other choices available.

Some people even have license plates that display their professions. Examples of these are firefighters, veterans, and members of the United States Armed Forces. In fact, certain college students sport license plates to show pride in their school.

In addition to this already extensive mix, the state of Illinois could be getting some new plates. Illinois is voting on possibly adding a new license plate design.

When driving through town it is likely you will see a variety of all the above plates. They are an excellent way to describe the person inside the vehicle and are a great way for owners to personalize their automobiles.

THE NO-ZONE

One of the highlights in the nine weeks of driver safety is the truck demonstration put on by Roadway Express. A semi is brought to the back parking lot of the school where students are given the opportunity to sit inside the cab, as well as learn all about the truck and how to stay safe when driving on a road shared with a semi.

The demonstration is usually put on every quarter. Tim Sherlock and Ken Leone are the two gentlemen who give the demonstration most of the time. The driver safety teachers assist them to teach young drivers the importance of being careful when around big trucks. More than 200,000 crashes which involves one passenger car and one semi occur every year, and sixty percent of the time it is not the truck driver's fault but the auto driver's fault.

Most of the emphasis of the lesson focuses on staying out of a truck's no-zones, that is areas around the truck that place a car in danger. A large truck has a blindspot directly behind them, as well as blindspots on each side, much larger than the blindspot passenger car drivers are accustomed with. It is also hazardous to have a semi too close to the rear of your car. Students learn a fun little ditty to help remind them to stay out of the no-zones. Also, the demonstration teaches the proper way to pass big trucks, and the precautions one should take when the truck is turning or backing up.

At the end of the day, the students are much better drivers because of the knowledge they received on how to drive safely when on the road with a large truck. No longer will they ever hangout in the no-zones.

CRUISING & PATROLLING THE STREETS

At Nevada City High School, our students participate in a variety of activities during the school year, and we work hard to make sure they are all fun and interesting. One of the most popular activities is cruising. We all know that cruising is a great way to spend the summer, and it's also a great way to make some extra money. But for the majority of us, driving such a car is not reality, yet only a dream....

Some of the most popular cars are the Ford Mustang, the Chevrolet Camaro, and the Ford F-150. These cars are not only fun to drive, but they are also very reliable. They are also very popular with the girls. They are also very popular with the boys. They are also very popular with the teachers. They are also very popular with the parents. They are also very popular with the community. They are also very popular with the world.

There are many reasons why these cars are so popular. One reason is that they are very reliable. Another reason is that they are very fun to drive. A third reason is that they are very popular with the girls. A fourth reason is that they are very popular with the boys. A fifth reason is that they are very popular with the teachers. A sixth reason is that they are very popular with the parents. A seventh reason is that they are very popular with the community. An eighth reason is that they are very popular with the world.

For the 1998-1999 school year, the school board has approved a plan to purchase a fleet of cars for the students. The plan is to purchase a fleet of cars that will be used by the students during the school year. The plan is to purchase a fleet of cars that will be used by the students during the school year. ## DID THE MILLENNIUM BUG BITE?

Before January 1st 2000 people everywhere wondered what life would be like in the twenty-first century? Ideas of space ships being our mode of transportation houses on the surface of Mars and home appliances being artificially intelligent were a few thoughts. But now it's realized the human race has a little way to go before those ideas become a reality.

With Y2K fast approaching and leaving, there is little interest in the fact that it's supposed to be the time for space-ships and robots. The biggest worry on anybody's mind in the months leading up to the year 2000 was the prediction all computers would fail when 2000 was reached. All over the world people were frightened of the many horrible things that might have happened if the computers shut down. They were stocking up on important items, such as can goods, because of the fear of everything breaking down. But was all this preparation really necessary?

Very few people believed in the "Y2K bug". Most believed it's just another year. Some people planned huge parties and celebrated a new beginning, while others invited friends over because it was a New Year tradition.

Was all the talk about Y2K computer crashes and the end of the world true, or was it all rumors which led to a more exciting New Year's? Since it was only November 29th 1999 when this was written, we didn't know.

But, by the time this book is published, everyone will be aware of what exactly happened on December 31, 1999.

ALTERATIONS AND MODERATIONS

Changes, changes everywhere, inside and out. If you decide to attend a football game this year, the new bleachers will be a welcomed alteration from the old wooden bleachers. They are more modern and brighten the look of the football field.

The tennis players are excited about their new courts. No more long trips to the park to play. They are not only more convenient, but more spectators show up to enjoy the sport.

Good morning and these are your morning announcements. This phrase may sound familiar, but awkward hearing it in second hour. The pledge and Channel One are still during first hour.

The whole time schedule was arranged to add more time to first hour and the other hours. This leads to the change of only having six minutes between classes, instead of seven. The one-minute bell still rings to remind you of those sixty precious seconds you have to go to class.

An elevator was installed to help anyone unable to use the stairs. The students in wheelchairs use the elevator as a simple way to get to their upstairs, downstairs classes. It gives them easy access to the entire school.

Every school year new regulations seem to be made. Hair that is educationally distracting, such as a Mohawk or spike, are no longer allowed. It is no longer acceptable to style your hair in a distracting manner and attend GCHS. Hair color that is not naturally occurring such as blue, pink, and green are also not allowed.

Piercings are also a controversy. If you have facial piercings or tongue rings that are distractive, you will be asked to remove them. Not only are they disturbing, they are a safety hazard.

Many believe the new regulations are unfair and take away their freedom to be their own person. Many, also, understand that the school is only trying to help maintain a good educational setting where learning is maximized.

Your high school days are only for four years. Listen and learn. After that, it is up to you (or your future employer) to set the rules. Choose wisely.

THIS IS JUST THE BEGINNING

Who could forget the first day of school? For most students, this day tends to be one of the most exciting and/or frightening days of the school year. Students get the chance to see classmates who have not been seen since the end of the previous year. There is also the opportunity to meet new friends.

As the day begins, halls fill up with conversation of summer events and vacations. Anxious students wait to follow their new schedules; but more important, to find out what friends are in their classes.

For sophomores, juniors, and seniors, the first day is nothing new. For freshmen, things are a little different and sometimes difficult. Coming to a new school as large as GCHS is scary. Some of their common fears are: getting to class on time, finding their locker, locating the restrooms, not being tardy, figuring out how to get to the cafeteria, finding someone to eat with at lunch, and the most important not getting lost.

After a few weeks, however, these fears usually fade away. The freshmen get into a routine and are able to blend in with the other students. The only thing really differentiating them from the upperclassmen are their size.

Once the first day is finished, it is not long until everyone finds their niche. They get involved with the club, sport, or organization that best fits their interests. The students form social groups with their friends from junior high and the new ones they have met. The school begins to truck on down the long journey that ends with summer vacation, and then the cycle begins again.

Even though the first day of school brings a close to summer fun, nobody knows what the new school year will bring. It all begins with the first day.

MY OWN LITTLE SPACE

Over the last few years, our high school has undergone major renovations. Almost everything that was once a part of the original school has been removed and replaced. One particular group of furnishings that were removed and replaced were the students' hall lockers. The building designers decided it would be best to install the hall lockers. The main reasons for this decision were saving space and being able to have more lockers. In this way students would not have to share their locker space with anyone else.

The lockers were installed so that one locker is stacked on top of another locker. This presents a major problem for the person who has the locker on the bottom. When the person on top is trying to get in their locker, the person on bottom has to wait and vice versa. This may not seem like a very big problem, but it has its moments. When you are stopping between classes and only have six minutes to get from one class to the next, a student needs to rush. Sometimes, there just is not enough time if both people are at the lockers at the same time.

The lack of room in the lockers is another complaint, especially during the winter months. Once a student puts their books, binders, and their notebooks in the locker, there is no room left for a heavy winter coat. Also, once the winter coat is stuffed in the locker, where does a person put anything they might need for an extracurricular activity?

These hall lockers, however, do have an advantage. You have your own, or, dual space. It's yours, all yours. You share your belongings and school items with no one. You don't have to worry about anything being taken from your locker, because no other person needs to be in there ... and that's a major 'plus'.

WARM WEATHER FRIENDS

Once students returned to school in September, the fall season was pretty much in full effect, even though it was not actually fall yet. The major seasons are more than just a quarter of the year. With every change in season comes a drastic change in the atmosphere, which holds true at GCHS.

Students spent the very hot summer in cooler places. Paddlers and the park swimming pool were two very popular hangouts during the summer. Even all over could be seen wearing tank tops with the GCHS logo and strap tops to help keep cool. It stayed fairly warm until near the end of October, an unusually late arrival of cold weather. That did not stop fall from arriving, though.

Although it was still warm, it was easy to tell the fall season by the high school football and soccer games, among others. The sporting events are very popular among students and as it turned on a bright night, they could find their new cold-weather wardrobe. The leaves started falling and a more melancholy mood was in the air in contrast to the good news of summer. Then, after Thanksgiving, it was the beginning of the next season, winter.

A time of excitement and anticipation, winter gives students much to look forward to. Students were ready for the first snow as the trees became more bare. They were ready for Christmas vacation and New Year's Eve. Students were ready for the many presents to be received and for new clothes with new faces. Bright new winter boots and stocking feet could be seen worn into basketball games in the gym. Everybody is filled with joy. Winter is probably the happiest time of the year when it first arrives, but in January and February drag on, the mood becomes very dreary. Classes become boring, a jam, snow turns to rain, and school days seem to become longer, but finally a new season arrives.

Spring fills the air with a feeling of relief. Summer is just around the corner. The summer wardrobes are dusted off and broken out of the closet. Leaves are growing on the trees and the grass is getting greener. Students can feel the end of the school year approaching, and when it finally does, summer returns thus ending the cycle of feelings, moods, and sights that is the seasons.

SCORE A POINT FOR ME

It's the bottom of the ninth and your team is behind 6-5. The bases are loaded and your homerun hitter is up to bat. With only one swing left, he hits a grand slam. During the fourth quarter with only three minutes to go, the score is tied. It seems to stay that way for over two minutes. Now there are only a few seconds left and your team s-c-o-r-e-s. The fans go crazy and loud with excitement.

Many of these cheerful and most spirited fans are the freshmen. They usually have a favorite team and attend most of the games cheering and yelling for another victory. These students are essential fans.

School spirit is very important in any high school and especially significant for the teams. It is encouraging for a member of a team to hear their freshmen yell, sing, and chant victory songs. Large crowds with banners and school colors motivate the players and may possibly help determine an intense winning situation.

What would it be like without these loyal fans? What if one of our school teams won an overwhelming victory and there were no fans? The bleachers would be empty and silence would fill the air. It almost sounds ridiculous and incredibly boring. At a moment like this, team members enjoy sharing their victory with everyone around them.

We couldn't have fans without teams, but most importantly, we couldn't have an enthusiastic team without the constant support and encouragement of the fans. Fans love sports and the sports players love fans, and that's the way it should be.

YOU MAKE IT - I'LL EAT IT

Almost everyone has heard that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. For most people, the body has been without nourishment throughout their sleeping hours. This may have been over ten hours, depending upon when the last meal was consumed.

A well-balanced breakfast would include the four basic food groups. One fourth to one third of the day's calories and necessary nutrients are supplied through a good breakfast. People that neglect to eat breakfast are subject to be irritable and nervous. Eating a healthy breakfast can increase your learning ability. It's just like food for your brain.

So, what's your excuse for skipping breakfast? No time, on a diet, not enough money for a McDonald's breakfast meal or never hungry in the morning? There should not be any excuse for skipping the most important meal of the day. Every morning, at 7:30 until the first bell rings, breakfast is served in the Granite City High School cafeteria.

It takes very little time to walk through the breakfast line. One of the favorite items on the menu is biscuits and gravy but a variety of other delicious items are served as well. All this for only fifty cents. That's a good deal when compared to some fast food breakfast meals. Fruit is also provided for those who are on a diet and choose to eat a lighter meal in the morning. A healthy diet, however, would never consist of passing up breakfast.

Now is the time to make eating breakfast a habit. If you have never eaten breakfast in the cafeteria, it's definitely worth a try. Eating this essential meal can help you lead a more satisfying life. One meal can help you become more upbeat and less moody. If you haven't heard it already, now you know the facts. Start eating breakfast and feel better. Any more excuses for not trying to feel better?

IT ALL STARTS TODAY

Do you remember the first day of your freshman year? The school was new, the people were new, and the teachers were different. However, at the end of the day you have to go home, where everything is familiar. Your bedroom is the same and your family is there.

Now, can you imagine if everything you had ever known were different? What if after a difficult first day at school you came home and absolutely everything was changed? You didn't have the same room or surroundings and your family is different. To top it all off, you don't even reside in the same country anymore.

If you have ever been in the foreign exchange program, you might know the feeling. If you haven't, maybe now is a good time to learn about it. GCHS was fortunate enough this year to participate in the foreign exchange program.

This year there are two foreign exchange students attending GCHS. Nicola Jorgensen is visiting the United States from Denmark. He is staying with Mary Beth Snelson and her family. One of her daughters, Jennie, still attends GCHS and is a senior this year.

The other foreign exchange student is Kaori Minato. Kaori is from Japan. While in Granite City she is living with the Alexander family. In addition to being a host family for Kaori, the Alexander family have two other children, Chad and Jamie. Jamie attends GCHS and is a senior this year.

Do you have an interest in life in other countries? If you do, rather than just dreaming of visiting there, take action. Do your research, decide if it is what you really want, then go for it. Before you decide to become a foreign exchange student give it a great deal of thought. Living in another country for any length of time is a big commitment and could be a difficult decision to make.

MEET ME IN THE ATRIUM

Finding a place to stand or sit in the morning can sometimes be a difficult task. Students crowd the hallway searching for a place to socialize. This has been a major problem for students and teachers who need to get in and out of classrooms.

With the renovation of the school, an atrium was added to help remedy the problem. The atrium, which is conveniently located in front of the main office, provides a place for socializing in the morning. There are benches to sit on, plenty of room to stand, and even a phone to use before and after school and in between classes.

Before this year the atrium was not a very popular place. People used it for the phone and as an easier route to class. It was too new and many students did not understand the purpose of this big open space. But now its purpose is being served. Many students choose the atrium as a place to stand, rather than the hallway. This makes teachers and students much happier with the hallway situation.

With the atrium added on, and less crowded hallways, the school appears less congested and easier to travel through. This makes for a less stressed administration, faculty, and student body.

SMILE ONCE IN A WHILE

Attitude is an important part of your personality. If you have a good attitude most of the time, people like you and appreciate what you say. Bad attitudes turn people off.

A good attitude is the best thing to have. It reflects in how you think, act, and feel. Your day is always much brighter when people are happy.

Bad attitudes cause serious problems for everyone. If you come to school with a bad attitude, it spreads to the people around you. Like a virus, your attitude continues growing and becomes worse.

Bad attitudes can start out many ways. A bad grade on a test can cause a good day to turn sour. Fighting with parents is another major cause of bad attitudes. Friends who do not say "hi" or speak to you in the hall, also have a major effect on you.

Both types of attitudes can be found anywhere and everywhere. School, your work environment are all places where attitude plays a major role. Family gatherings also bring mixed attitudes. One bad attitude can spoil the whole taste of the potato salad.

Ways to prevent bad attitudes are important to know. For instance, if you make a bad grade on a quiz for the first time, don't worry so much about it. This would really not affect your grade if you did well on the other exams. When you feel your parents are annoying you, take a walk. This gives you time to think and rationalize the problem, which could prevent unnecessary conflict.

No matter how you look at it, good attitudes are important to have. The happier you are the easier everything will be. Bad attitudes only cause problems for everyone around you.

Remember, think positive, have a good approach to each situation, let your attitude reflect your good personality, and smile once in a while.

PRINCIPAL R. WILLIAM ROTTER

As I prepare for my retirement at the conclusion of the school year, I look back over many fond memories of Granite City High School. I think back to when I first came to the high school as a sophomore in 1960 and wonder how many of today's students know that at one time the high school had 3600 students in a three year school. Ninth graders attended class at Coolidge. I remember my graduation in 1963. Graduation was held in the gymnasium at that time.

After four years at St. Louis University, I returned to the high school as a mathematics and chemistry teacher in 1967. In 1973 with the opening of North High School, my entire day was devoted to teaching chemistry here at South High. A few months later, I became head of the Science Department. I remember the sad days in the early eighties when the district financial situation worsened as enrollment dropped until it was necessary to close North High in 1983. Many excellent teachers lost jobs during the cut backs at this time.

I completed twenty-five years of teaching in 1992 when I took a job as assistant principal in charge of discipline. After two years in discipline, I became the assistant principal in charge of registration and records. In 1995, I became principal and have spent my last five years in that capacity.

When the final day arrives, I will enjoy spending a large amount of time playing duplicate bridge. I hope to spend some time improving my (admittedly terrible) golf game and I hope to do a good deal of travelling. I will not miss at all getting up at 6:30 every morning.

Some of my fondest memories will include the renovated high school building. The efforts put in by all concerned have given today's students and the students of the future a beautiful, up-to-date, and comfortable facility. I will always treasure the friendship with the faculty and staff with whom I have worked over these thirty-three years. As with all teachers, I will always relish in the successes of my former students and hope that I played at least a small part in those accomplishments.

No farewell could be complete without saying thank you to those who have been so helpful to me over these years. Thank you to my wife, Mary, my children, Michael, Laura, and Erin, my mother, Ruth Ann, and my late father, Ralph, who have always been supportive of me throughout my career. Thank you to the people of Granite City and the school board members they have elected who have given me the opportunities I have had in my professional life. No individual can hope to be successful unless they are a part of a quality team and I certainly have always had that team. A special thank you to a person who was one of those special teachers who first inspired me as a student, later mentored me as my first department head, worked side-by-side with me as a colleague, has always been a confidant and most importantly a true friend. Thank you Bob Nelson.

To Mr. Patton who will become principal after I retire, I hope that you will find every day at Granite City High School as enjoyable as I have. You have a first rate faculty and an excellent student body. I am sure that you will find the job extremely rewarding.

JERRY McKECHAN is the vice principal and the athletic director at Granite City High School. He has been the vice principal for five years. Among his duties, he is in charge of all the athletic programs, clubs, and organizations. He oversees all extra-curricular events, and all athletic tournaments held at GCHS. He also works closely with the Warrior Boosters club to help our student athletes. His job is very hectic at times, but he makes sure that all events hosted by GCHS run smoothly. Of course, his job is not only about athletics. His vice principal title means that he is the man in charge when Mr. Rotter is not on campus.

ALLEN KENNERLY is one of four assistant principals at GCHS. He has held this position for the past 22 years. He deals with registration, student obligations, progress reports, student records, and report cards. He is also in charge of all graduation ceremonies. Graduation is the highlight of his year, and he dedicates a large amount of time to this special event. He wants the ceremony to be a memorable one for all the graduates.

STEVE HAMILTON is one of the two assistant principals who deals with discipline. He has been an assistant principal for five years. Students with the last names beginning with letters A through L are sent to him. He oversees all after school and Saturday detention. He also coordinates all of the drug searches at GCHS. He insures that punishments given to students are equal to their misbehavior.

CINDY GAGICH has been working at GCHS as an assistant principal for four years. She is the vocational director and oversees the following programs: Industrial Technology, Business, Home Economics departments, and the Health Occupations Program. She coordinates programs such as Job Shadowing and 8th Grade Orientation. School Improvement, Education Development Days, ISBE Internal Review and the North Central Evaluation process are also among her duties, as well as curriculum issues.

DEBBIE WILKERSON is the other assistant principal who enforces discipline throughout the school. This is her fourth year working as an assistant principal at GCHS. She handles students whose names begin with the letters M through Z. She also helps with teacher evaluations and the revising of the Warrior Student Handbook. She coordinates the parking lots and supervises students and staff members. Mrs. Wilkerson works with the high school graphic arts classes to arrange the printing of materials for the district. In January 2000, Mrs. Wilkerson was transferred to Mitchell Elementary School. Her new title is Principal Denise Wilkerson. Greg Patton was moved from Mitchell to replace Denise at the high school. Next year, Mr. Patton will become the next principal of GCHS.

CHRISTINE DOUGLAS

Beth's spotlight teacher for the 2000 yearbook is CHRISTINE DOUGLAS. Mrs. Douglas is in her tenth year of teaching. She grew up in Granite City and attended St. Elizabeth Elementary school and Granite City High School North. In high school her favorite subject was math and she enjoyed helping other students learn difficult math concepts.

When she continued her education at Western Illinois University, it was clear that Math would be her major. Her minor was Computer Sciences. Presently she teaches Algebra 1, 2, 3, & 4, and Tech Math.

Mrs. Douglas takes her job very seriously. This is obvious because she makes sure each student understands the math concept that have been covered. If a student is having difficulty, she tries to arrange her schedule in order to help the student whenever possible. Her main objective is to help her students understand what she is teaching. Mrs. Douglas never makes a student feel like they are an inconvenience to her.

She presently lives in St. Louis, Missouri with her husband Tom, and three children named Tommy, Taylor, and Erika. Her hobbies include traveling to different states, playing sports, and watching sports.

I've had the pleasure of knowing Mrs. Douglas all four years of high school. With math as my weak point in my academic classes, it was refreshing to see a teacher go out of her way to help me. She was continuously helping me after school and during my half hour study hall. This was more than I could ever have expected from any teacher. Her endless generosity was never taken for granted and was very much appreciated.

Any student who has Mrs. Douglas as an instructor knows that she gives 110% to her students. She is fair and treats every student as an equal. Granite City Senior High is very fortunate to have a teacher of this caliber. Thank you for everything you have done for me and the other students in this school.

LINDA HILL

Michelle's spotlight teacher for the 2000 yearbook is LINDA HILL. She was born and raised in New Mexico. She obtained her degree from Eastern New Mexico University with a major in dance and physical education.

Mrs. Hill has taught in the Granite City school system for 30 years. In that time she has accomplished many outstanding achievements, and received numerous awards. She coached gymnastics, and started many of the classes currently being taught in the physical education program. Classes such as senior dance, walk for fitness, and basic training are some that she initiated.

Mrs. Hill was instrumental in starting the Plus Program, which has won state awards. She also received the Eagle's Teacher of the Year, as well as the Excellence in Teaching Award from the State Board of Education. She is currently the P.E. department head.

Mrs. Hill cares very much about her students and she shows it everyday through her teaching. She will always listen to your problems and help you the best that she can. Mrs. Hill understands that P.E. isn't for everyone. She is a very understanding woman and she tries to make her classes fun as well as physical. She encourages each student to do their best and be an individual. All of these qualities make Mrs. Hill an outstanding teacher.

I've had the privilege of having Mrs. Hill as a teacher throughout all four years of my high school career. I couldn't ask for a sweeter, kinder, and more understanding teacher and friend.

Mrs. Hill, thank you for all the advice, all the fun, and all of the encouragement. You've helped make my gym classes 'special' to me.

BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY

The AIDES of Granite City High School bring a presence of an easier day to those students in need of a little more help. Although unfamiliar to those who are not being helped by these aides, those who require their assistance appreciate it dearly.

Time, patience, and optimism are qualities the aides possess. Their job is very demanding, but none of them complain or find it to be routine. Their responsibilities vary with each student. They help students with classroom work and assist them with any other problems. They are also there to help answer questions or to explain things.

They strive to make it easier to complete the day with as little fuss as possible. Many students do not realize the time and hours spent by these special people. They enjoy being with students and are always ready to give assistance when needed. The students and faculty members are appreciative of their never ending effort to help.

Everyday, students rush into the CAFETERIA, get in line and hope to be the first to get a special table and be first in line. Our high school cafeteria workers try hard each day to make a special lunch for the students. Lunch begins at approximately 10:30 a.m. and ends at 1 p.m. It is up to these experienced ladies to make sure there is always a variety of food for all of the lunch crowd. They also make sure everyone is satisfied with everything and that the food and service are in working order. Even though lunch ends by 1 p.m., the ladies continue to work and make sure everything is clean, in working order, and ready for their next shift. These ladies perform an invaluable service to the school and the students. They are always willing to assist you.

The CUSTODIANS at this school have a very tough job that sometimes goes unnoticed. No one really understands the heavy work load better than the custodians themselves. There are two different shifts of custodial work. During the day shift, these gentlemen can be seen sweeping the campus clean inside and out. Who can forget the wet and slippery floors before the games. The custodians are very hard workers. They are the people who have picked up all the pop bottles, gum wrappers, soda cans, and thousands of junk left in the schools. Sweeping out the floors and cleaning up the messes. The members of the crew are the unsung heroes of the school. Not only do they sweep, they are responsible for cleaning up spills, mopping, and other not so glamorous jobs. The evening crew works from 3 p.m. They lock up the school and turn the lights off and the doors to the building. They work and take care that the school is a safe and healthy environment. The custodians keep the school in working order. David Krieger has the responsibility of making sure a member of the team is ready when needed. He is also in charge of keeping track of the hours worked, ordering necessary supplies, and everything else it takes to keep our school running smoothly. With the cooperation of custodians, faculty, and students, Granite City High School can always be a place that we are proud to attend.

Working inside the halls of GCHS are the school MONITORS. How many times have you heard this? "May I see your I.D. please?" These people are here to protect students. They are here to help you. They are there to make sure students are not as likely to be late to class, skip class, leave campus, or try to smoke a smoke. They also make sure students in the school by directing them to their destination. They are also responsible for making sure the doors are locked when needed. They play an important role in this school. Gary Peterson, Beverly Gaudin, Ginny Hartman, Jeff Gaudin, and Tim Brown are the hall monitors while Edin Dray can usually be seen in the ISS room. Equipped with walkie-talkies, they can communicate with each other and help everyone keep the school informed of various activity. They can also report lockers missing when necessary. The school monitors are greatly appreciated by the faculty, administration, and the students. Since Don's retirement in January, Cliff assumed the ISS duty. Vicky Sarich was hired as a part-time monitor.

Our SECRETARIES have one of the most difficult jobs in the school. They have to deal with the students, faculty, and the administration on a daily basis and give 100 percent to all their tasks. Everyday they face endless excuses, which is through mounds of paper work, in searching for that responsibility are "not around". They strive to understand and use some of their computerized software.

But even with all these obstacles, the secretaries enjoy their high school and their jobs. They appreciate their classes and like working with high school students. They are the backbone of good office workers. Always using good judgment and organizational abilities.

They get to work on time, work vigorously all day, and come back to work the next day and do it all over again.

TEEN LEADERS

ALPHA is a group of students made up of juniors and seniors. They are select students chosen to be peer leaders for freshmen. This group of students attended a seminar in Marion, Illinois for training sessions. The students then teach freshman health classes every Friday for nine weeks.

Many important issues are discussed, such as alcohol, drugs, peer pressure and decision making just to name a few. It provides an atmosphere where students can share their negative situations. The class is not all discussion and lecturing. The peer leaders try to get the students involved by playing games and role playing. This is a way for students who normally do not talk, to express themselves in a different way.

The program is a learning experience for the students, but the peer leaders as well. Responsibility is one of the big things learned. The leaders have to meet with their team to prepare for each weeks lessons. Going into a classroom unprepared shows little responsibility and the students lose interest. In order for them to learn you must show interest in the topic too. Peer leaders also gain a broader knowledge of the issues facing teens today, which could help them through a difficult situation someday.

At the end of the semester the freshman have new friends to look up to. Peer leaders leave knowing what they said could affect a decision one of those students make for the better.

The sponsors for ALPHA are Michael Johnson and Frank McHugh.

YOUNG AUTHORS

TWO UNIQUE CLUBS

If you are wanting to express your thoughts, ideas, and creativity then the YOUNG AUTHORS CLUB is for you. This club evaluates essays, poems, dramas, and any other kind of writing.

Ed Whittleman is in his fourth year of sponsoring the young authors club. The co-editors for this year are Chuck Nagy and Brian Bogovich. These two help Mr. Whittleman with editing and help the young authors write their papers.

The young authors club consists of six members. These members meet every Monday and discuss their ideas for stories. The club is publishing a magazine this year named "The Imagination Manifestation". This magazine will be published at least twice during the school year. It will consist of poems and essays. The magazines will be sold for one dollar to anyone wanting to purchase it. The members dedicate most of their time to the completion of the magazine.

The young authors club is a wonderful club to join if you are wanting to pursue a career in writing. The club is always looking for new members to express their ideas. Anyone interested in writing is welcome to join. The young authors club has very talented writers and does a fantastic job.

Another club at Granite City High School is the CHESS CLUB. The chess club meets every few weeks to socialize and play chess. This is the third year for the chess club and it is led by Steve Knogl.

This year's officers are president Zachary Smith, vice-president Steve Geroff, secretary Matthew Thomas, and treasurer Ernest Hume.

This year the chess club has hopes of not just playing each other. They would like to go to other schools and compete in tournaments that those schools hold.

CAPTAIN PLANET

Everyone is always talking about saving the planet, but many don't know where to go to begin their crusade. At GCHS, we have a fun and unique place where everyone is welcome to take part in saving the planet. They belong to the Environmental Club, a long standing and active organization, they work hard all year to beautify the school and our community.

The sponsors of the Environmental Club are guidance counselor Richard Skirball, in his sixth year sponsoring the club, and biology teacher Jerry Trickey, who is in his second year. Officers for this school year include President Lindsay Heath, Vice President Amy Krieschok, Secretary Emily Worthen, and Treasurer Tony Mell.

The Environmental Club is an extremely active organization. For a fund raiser, they sell Human-I-Tees, environmental themes merchandise such as candles, t-shirts, shorts, and mugs. Some of the money raised go towards the clubs annual Granite City Scholarship Fund, to which they donate $1000. This year, they replaced a tree in honor of Francis Pasiecia. The Enviro-thon is also an annual event for the club. They compete with area schools in forest and natural resource related issues. In addition, they participate in Stash the Trash, a program for area youth. Another anticipated event is Car Pool Day, when the club gives a reward to everyone that had more than one person in their car when they arrived at school. The Eagle watch at the Alton Lock and Dam is also a popular activity. In December and near the end of the school year, the active members of the club are treated to pizza parties, recognizing all the achievements of the past year.

If you are interested in the preservation of earth or ecology the Environmental Club would be an activity to consider. It is one of the best opportunities to have fun and actually make a difference in the community and our school.

LEARN FROM IT, DEAL WITH IT

Being a teenager is one of the most difficult periods in a person's life. Children face many new types of stress they have never had to deal with before over much more serious issues. Empathy is designed to teach peers how to deal with these worries as well as how to help other teens deal with stress.

Empathy is opened to any student in GCHS. Guidance counselors Michael Johnson and Frank McHugh sponsor the group. They meet with members every other week to improve their skills of dealing with the bumps and bruises of being a teenager. They teach students how to maintain their self-esteem, solve problems, make the correct decisions, know one's limits when extending help to a friend, and how to assess a bad situation.

On December 9, the group visited Wilson school to teach the younger children how life is at GCHS. The Empathy members taught the students the importance of choosing the right friends and the impact friends make. The club also sent Christmas cards to a local nursing home made in association with the elementary students.

The main focus of Empathy is to advise students on how to handle their problems, big or small, and make the most of high school. Everybody needs someone to listen and provide support once in a while, which is exactly what Empathy provides. It's a club with a purpose, and it's open to all interested students.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUB

HELLO, HOLA, ALOHA, HALO

There are so many clubs at GCHS, it can be difficult to decide which ones to join. The Foreign Language Club would be a good choice. Under the supervision of Dennis Church, the club enjoyed many fun activities during the school year.

During the fall, the club members participated in a holiday fundraiser. As part of this fundraiser, the club sold mostly Christmas items. Some of these items included gift wrap, ornaments, and various other gifts. Proceeds from this sale went towards a field trip to the theatre for a Spanish play.

Another event the Foreign Language Club participated in was the celebration of Foreign Language Week in February. During the week the club handed out quizzes in the lunch hours. The quizzes were then turned in and the ones with correct answers were entered in a drawing for a T-shirt. Bon-bons were also sold during this week.

The officers this year were Hae Won Suh, president; Megan Francis, vice president; Mary Lofink, treasurer; and Jason Woodson, secretary.

If you are looking for a club to join, next year give the Foreign Language Club a try.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUB: 1. President Hae Won Suh and Dennis Church. 2. Megan Francis, vice president; Jason Woodson, secretary; Mary Lofink, treasurer. 3. ROW 1: Krystal Gaughan, Martha Christiansen, Leann Mansfield. ROW 2: Kate Marzluf, Sunny Bolt, Jacquelin Fredericks, Andrea Crook, Kelly Mitchell. ## THE HEALTH FIELD

The dreams of GCHS students are limitless, from actors and actresses to zoologists. The future is rapidly approaching and the race is on to find your calling in life. One of the more popular choices for the next generation is the health care field. At GCHS, The Future Health Occupations Club is offered to recognize those who are considering a position in the medical field and to give members information about the hard work and dedication needed to become a health professional.

The officers for the 2000 school year include president Dennis Schwierjohn, vice president Jeremy Stone, treasurer Erik Kambarian, secretary Jessica Worthen and historian, Lindsay Arnold.

Formerly known as The Future Nurses Club, it was changed recently to expand the career aspects of its members from only nurses to the entire health field. The club plans many guest speakers and field trips throughout the year to further the member's education about the medical profession.

FHO's new sponsor is Marilyn Washington. The club has always had many active members. With the help of the sponsor and members, this club is sure to become one of the most popular at GCHS.

THE BUSINESS SUITS

F.B.L.A. (Future Business Leaders of America) is still a fairly new club but one of the more active clubs here at Granite City High School. F.B.L.A. is an interesting club geared toward giving students experience in the business field.

Meetings are held monthly and members who attend must be dressed in appropriate business attire. F.B.L.A. participates in competitions like the National Leadership Conference in Chicago, Illinois, the Southwest Area Conference hosted by Granite City and State Competition in Springfield, Illinois. F.B.L.A. also holds many fundraisers. One significant fundraiser is for the March of Dimes. All of the money donated supports research on reducing birth defects. Many guest speakers such as the Personnel Director of A.G. Edwards, a businessman from Capri Sun and many other individual owners have appeared at meetings.

The founders and co-sponsors of F.B.L.A. are Ronald Gilreath and Carol Sturdivant. This year's officers are Bobby Roberts, president; Carl Stucke, vice president; Erica Ingram, secretary; P.J. Stewart, treasurer; Brandi Reynolds, historian; and J.D. Murphy, reporter. Joe Shambro is Parliamentarian of F.B.L.A. and Southwest Area President and is also recognized as the state Vice President. Joe Shambro appointed Erica Ingram to the office of Southwest Area Secretary.

Anyone who is interested in business should join F.B.L.A. because it helps give members experience in the business field and is a great after school activity.

FUTURE EDUCATORS OF AMERICA

TEACHERS OF TOMORROW

The Future Educators of America or FEA has been a fun and rewarding club at GCHS for six years. Mary Dame and Denise Albrecht are the sponsors for this active club. The club is geared toward students who are interested in pursuing a career in education after their high school years.

The officers for the 1999-2000 school year include President Jamie Edwards, Vice President Michele Milton, Secretary Charles Reagan, Treasurer Art Chastain, Committee Members Liz Stoppotte and Emily Falter.

The club is involved in numerous activities throughout the year. The most prominent being participants in Junior Achievement. For this activity, club members break into groups of two or three, are trained and eventually teach a month long course at an elementary school in basic business. It is an activity both members and the young elementary students enjoy. In addition to Junior Achievement, FEA sponsors teacher recognition projects, they host car washes and cookie sales, and many other community projects throughout the year. Near the end of the school term, the club has a get-together at a local restaurant to celebrate the accomplishments of the past year.

FEA is a fun and exciting club at GCHS and gives all who participate a great perspective in the area of education. If you are thinking about pursuing a career in the teaching field, FEA gives you insight and a head start for the future.

HIGH WORLD

HOT OFF THE PRESS

A newspaper is a publication containing news, opinions, feature articles, and sports events. Newspapers are a good way to find out what is happening in the world today. Many people read a newspaper, including the students of Granite City Senior High School, which has the honor of having its own newspaper.

The Granite High World staff consists of twenty-one students. They meet everyday during first hour to discuss their ideas and write their stories. An issue of the newspaper is published once every month. Ten issues are published in one school year. The ten issues include the senior edition and the two cub editions. The senior edition is the last issue of the year and is dedicated to all graduating seniors. The Cub edition is produced by the beginning journalism classes.

Mr. Antonio Betancourt is the English teacher for the class, and has been for twelve years. The co-editor-in-chiefs of 1999 are Kim Bennett and Josh Burkett. They have sports, features, opinions, and news editors that assist them. An issue of the Granite High World can be bought for twenty-five cents, with the exception of the senior edition which is sold for fifty cents. The paper is normally sold during first hour classes.

"I think the school paper has been doing a very fine job for many years in promoting the school, students, programs, clubs, and athletics," stated Mr. Betancourt.

The school paper has been produced for many years. It's done an outstanding job in informing the students, and promoting school events. It is sure to do so for many more years to come.

DEBATE & I.E.

EXPRESS YOURSELF

Individual Events (I.E.) is a team of students who compete in a variety of events throughout the school year. The team competes in several different competitions throughout the school year.

Students can compete in anything from drama to comedy and can perform alone or in groups. Some categories include declamation, radio, humor, and special occasion. The class also competes on different levels. Some students are varsity and some are novice. The captain for this year is John Mell.

Just like in any play or group event members of the individual events team must take their work home with them. It is important that students have their own scripts and costumes. In some cases, members are asked to join the International Thespian Society.

As part of the debate team students are required to research the chosen topic themselves. Team members then travel to other schools to present their findings. Students then take part in an intrasquad debate. The winner gets bragging rights as well as the title of "Top Debater". As with other teams the debate team is split into novice and varsity levels.

Are you interested in the issues of today's society? Do you like to investigate these matters and relay your findings to others? If the answer to either of these questions is yes, then you should consider joining the debate team. The team competes in several different competitions throughout the school year.

I LOVE THIS CLASS

Jobs for Illinois Graduates is a club in it's third year now, and still going strong. It is very different from many of the other school clubs because it is set up so members remain in the program after they graduate to receive continued help.

JILG is offered to seniors as a two semester class which counts as an elective class. The class teaches skills needed to be successful after high school. Whether students go to college, the army, or directly to employment, JILG was set up to help graduates accomplish more. Members keep in touch with the program after high school to assist them with any situation they might have.

The president of JILG is Mike Holthaus. There are two members who hold each of the other offices; one for each hour of JILG, except for secretary which is held by three members. The vice presidents are Travis Isreal and Jessica Snider, the secretaries are Harry Painter, Gloria Briagas and Amanda Werths, the treasurers are Michelle Miller and Jackie Colter, the reporters are Christie Callender and George Brooks, and the historians are Todd Brady and Brandy Johnson. The students believe strongly in the program and are very happy with how the club has turned out.

MEET US ON THE ICE

The Ice Hockey Club is made up of players, cheerleaders, and fans. The club's attendance seems to rise every year as more and more people become interested in the sport. Each member shares the passion for the fast moving sport.

Though the weather can be cold, die hard fans are always there to support the players. No matter the outcome of the game, it's always exciting to come and watch the players. Win or lose, the devoted fans are always there to support their players.

Karen Wesley is in her second year as the club's sponsor. The club officers are Billie Jo Hunt president, Joi McNeish vice president, Katie Lathrop secretary, and Jonathan Lohman treasurer.

Through the cooperation of the sponsors and officers, the club makes plans through the year to ensure fun in the club. They participate in many activities such as a hayride and bonfire at Rellke's farm, ice skating parties, trips to St. Louis Blues hockey games, and a picnic at the end of the year. Members meet approximately once a week to plan for these events.

With the dedication of the sponsors and members the ice hockey club is one of the more popular clubs at GCHS. Everyone hopes it continues in popularity throughout the years.

TWO UNIQUE CLUBS

When one hears about competing teams at GCHS, usually sports or performance comes to mind. However, there is another type of team at our school. The SCHOLAR BOWL team is a group of students with excellent trivial knowledge, who compete against other schools in a gameshow-like set up. The team is sponsored by head coach Tim Wilson and assistant Amy Alsop.

Practice is held every Friday. The Scholar Bowl meets do not start until January, but the team had started practicing throughout December. The competitions are much like the television show Jeopardy, with the exception that five members of a team compete at one time. At each meet, twenty questions are given in six different categories. Whichever team has the most points after twenty questions wins the event.

Team captains this year are Patrick Bell, and Lindsay Foster. Other varsity members are Andy Ravanelli, Andy Elliff, Kenny Bone, Lora Smallman, Jennifer Ambuehl, Jeremiah Beckley, Andy Balcer, Laura Blankenship, and Stacie Foster. The team hopes very much that it will be able to improve on last year's record.

Everyone enjoys a band concert or a football game, but the scholar bowl team cannot be forgotten. They are enthusiastic competitors and ready to make our school proud.

For the more advanced vocal and band students the organization Tri-M is offered. Tri-M is an honorary society for Modern Music Masters. To be accepted you have to be in music or band class, have a G.P.A. of 3.0, be making at least a B in the music or band class, and nominated by the band or music teacher. The club meets once a month and has hopes of going to the Fox Theatre.

Mary Bright is the sponsor and has been for three years. The officers are as follows: Melissa Lueke, president; Kyle Bridges, vice president; Erica Reed, secretary; Tiffany Thick, treasurer; Joe Hahs, historian.

New Members: ROW 1: Kimberlee Bennett, Kathryn Oney. ROW 2: Sara Baxter, Phillip Matoesian.

IT'S NOT JUST FUN AND GAMES

The National Honor Society is an elite group of students who maintain good grades and give positive contributions to the community. To be accepted, a student must keep at least a 4.25 grade point average and also be involved in numerous school and community activities.

Sponsors of the National Honor Society are Amy Heath and Bill Puhse. Andrew Elliff was voted by his peers to be president of NHS. David Elliff vice president, Megan Francis secretary and Amy Krieschok treasurer.

Many activities are always planned throughout the year that are fun as well as rewarding. NHS works with several different organizations. "Jail-N-Bail", A famous NHS event, is held to raise money for the American Cancer Society. Members also take an afternoon to paint an entire house for the H.O.M.E. foundation. Collecting money for the United Way is another project. During the month of October, NHS opens the very scary haunted barn at Relleke's farm. In the summer NHS has a walk-a-thon to help raise money towards the research of Cystic Fibrosis. The members join varsity club and student council at the end of October for a Rec Night at the school. Also, NHS collects money for a sponsor child.

The National Honor Society truly lives up to their name. They work hard to keep themselves active in the community and try to be a good example to others.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

A PHOTOJOURNALISTIC APPROACH

QUILL and SCROLL is one of two honorary clubs at the high school. Antonio L. Betancourt has been the advisor for twelve years. He also teaches the Journalism classes at the high school.

New members must meet certain requirements to even be considered. A semester of yearbook or journalism is required and they must also be in the upper third of their class. An induction ceremony is held in February, with a special guest speaker from the field of writing also giving a presentation to the new members.

Officers of the club are as follows: Josh Burkett, president, Lesa Byrd, vice-president, and Beth Seibold as Secretary/Treasurer. The officers find fun activities in which to participate. The vice-president is in charge of finding the special guest speaker for the initiation dinner.

This year the club went to SIU-E to see a guest speaker, Mark Russell, a political satirist, was featured. The members went bowling and ate at Steak n' Shake beforehand. The new inductees for this year were Marissa Cox, Kathryn Isom, John Gensert, Patrick Thomas, Charles Reagan all from the yearbook staff. The new members from the High School staff were: Ashley Smith, Emily Smith, Amanda Smith, and the members of the yearbook staff: Ashley Smith, Emily Smith, Amanda Smith, and the members of the yearbook staff.

Goins, Tiffany Mainer, Patrick Meredith, Kristen Orsborn, Linda Petchulat.

Each new member should feel privileged to be among such a select few. It is a great honor to be selected as a member. This club is a way for people who excel in journalistic writing to come together.

People of Granite City High School who are interested in photos and cameras have the option to join the PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB. In the photography club people have the chance to learn about different cameras and how to operate them.

Pictures taken by the photography club are often published in the Warrior yearbook. The club has a popular money-maker. They sell carnations for every holiday. The flowers are sold for one dollar and can be purchased in room 180 before school. The color of the carnation matches the holiday it is sold for. With the money earned throughout the past years the photography club took a trip to New Orleans in March.

For Christmas the club went out to eat and exchanged their secret Santa gifts. It was a trip enjoyed by all.

Officers for the 1999-2000 school year are President Beth Seibold, Vice President Michelle Charbonnier, Treasurer Lesa Byrd, Secretary Mary Lofink. D. P. Spudich is the sponsor of the photography club and has been for many years. She started the club in the early 70's and has continued to sponsor it ever since its beginning.

S.A.D.D.

GIVE ME YOUR KEYS

S.A.D.D. (Students Against Drunk Driving) is an increasingly popular club at Granite City High School. The purpose of S.A.D.D. is to gather students who set a good example by not drinking and driving.

Nothing is required to be a member of the S.A.D.D. club except staying committed to the fight against drunk driving. Numerous events are planned for the students, and being an active member makes this club much more enjoyable. In the past, S.A.D.D. has scheduled many different activities such as taking part in the Homecoming Parade, volleyball matches, bowling, and the annual S.A.D.D. convention held at Belleville Area College.

Leah McFarland is taking over as S.A.D.D. club sponsor this year. She is replacing Gary Storm and Bruce Frank who sponsored the club in previous years. Mrs. McFarland and many dedicated officers such as President David Elliff, Vice President Richie Skirball, Secretary Penny Meyer, and Treasurer Erik Kambarian will plan the activities the club will participate in for this school year. Also, School Resource Officer Phil Popmarkoff will assist sponsoring the club for the first time.

S.A.D.D. is an exciting club with a positive effect on the community. The S.A.D.D. club encourages all students to stay away from drinking and driving and welcomes any student that would like to join in sending this message.

SCIENCE CLUB

WEIRD SCIENCE

One of the largest and most active clubs at GCHS is the Science Club. If you are one of those students interested in science and in the outdoors, the science club is for you.

The science club has over 100 members this year. The sponsors for the club are Amy Heath, Julie Klueter, and Sheila Reiter. The officers are Brandy Dugan, president, Andy Schwierjohn, vice-president, David Catanni, treasurer, April Schaefer, secretary. These officers help the sponsors organize everything. Through the efforts of the sponsors and officers, the club remains one of the most active at the high school.

The members work at the haunted barn at Relleke's Pumpkin Farm during the Halloween season. They also plan to take a hike at a state park during the spring. They have high hopes of taking a weekend camping trip to Boy Scout Camp Sunnen.

In order to pay for all of their trips, they have several projects including a gardening sale, sausage & cheese sale, and a sticker sale.

The science club is a very environmentally conscious club. Students who want to meet new people, have some fun, and help the environment should consider membership in this exciting club.

ALL AROUND THE WORLD

Are you interested in current events or learning how our government works? If you are, the social studies club may be the club for you. The social studies club is sponsored by history teacher Jim Lombardi. Mr. Lombardi, along with the four officers, Andrew Ravanelli, president; Katie Lathrop, vice-president; Andrew Balcer, treasurer; and Emily Kelahan, secretary, make sure things run smoothly.

This year the club took part in several entertaining activities. Some of which included fundraisers, field trips, and events to help support the school. The club participated in a TJ's Pizza fundraiser in the fall. As part of this fundraiser, club members sold pizzas, pies, and cookie dough. Proceeds from this sale, as well as other sales, went towards field trips throughout the year.

The club also helps out around the school. The display case committee is responsible for coming up with a theme for decorating the display case above the cafeteria.

Even though you have to be a junior or senior to attend the spring trip, there are members of all ages involved in this organization. So, if you are looking for an interesting club to join, consider the social studies club.

STUDENT COUNCIL

COMMUNITY HELPERS

One of the most well-known organizations in our school and community is Student Council. Student Council consists of six freshmen, six sophomores, eight juniors, and ten seniors. The representatives are elected by their respective classes each year. There are three officers who are elected by the entire student body. These officers lead Student Council's activities. This year's officers are Josh Mefford, president; Joi McNeish, first vice president, and Dave Svezia, second vice president. The faculty advisor is Linda Ames.

Student Council coordinates most of the events that we take for granted, including all homecoming week activities, such as theme week, the parade, selling tickets to the dance, and the decorations.

Student Council is more than an organizational group for the school. They help in the community by collecting for Christmas baskets and help with many other community projects.

One of the most helpful and enjoyable activities Student Council participates in is at Christmas time. They pick two young, needy children and take them on a shopping spree. Afterwards they take the children to eat pizza and play games.

One of Student Council's main goals is to ensure that everyone has a good year at school. Students who have a 3.5 grade point average, uphold good character, and are willing to work hard to improve the school and community should consider running for student council. The members agree that it is well worth it.

SPIRIT CLUB

EXPRESS YOURSELF

Have you ever wondered why senior sports players have so much candy at each game? Well, they have probably received it from spirit club members. Spirit club is sponsored by Ms. Janet Williams. The club is for anyone who wants to show their school spirit. Spirited members do things for seniors in every school sport.

Members pick a secret pal and buy them goodies and make signs for them. Usually they receive candy or their favorite type of dessert which brings excitement to those players who receive the snacks. They also make signs and cards of enthusiasm for upcoming games. Sometimes they have been known to decorate the seniors bedrooms. This makes the players feel like they have done a great job in their sport. They are being recognized for a job well done.

Officers for the club are: Courtney Bosworth, president; Emily Worthen, vice-president; Ashley Slover, secretary; Chelsey Peery, treasurer. The officers do a wonderful job of keeping the club organized. They make sure each of the secret pals receive their gifts and no one is left out.

Members must be willing to give of their time and talents to prepare items for the players. The spirit club is a great way to get involved in school and make the sports players feel special. If you want to show your school spirit, then this is the club for you.

LETTER PERFECT STUDENTS

Varsity club is a gathering of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have lettered in at least one sport. Every one who letters does not always choose to become a club member. At the beginning of the year, especially during homecoming week, the club raises money by selling spirit ribbons and megaphones, hoping to have school spirit at its peak at the homecoming football game.

Tim Moran is the sponsor for the varsity club. Four officers are chosen by voting at the beginning of the year. This year's president is Courtney Bosworth, Vice President Sarah Harris, Secretary Theresa Hatley, and Treasurer Emily Worthen. They assist Mr. Moran to plan activities everyone can enjoy.

This year, the varsity club, in conjunction with NHS and student council, held a rec night at the school annex. The club holds the faculty/student basketball and softball games and also puts on the famous annual donkey basketball game. The firefighters and police department always show up at the game to challenge the students and teachers. There is also a big competition between the varsity club and the student council. Varsity club also helps hold Sports Day for the grade school students. In the spring they donate their time to the Special Olympics.

The athletes in the varsity club play a huge part in keeping the school spirit alive and helping others get involved in sports. Which is why everyone who is eligible should join. The more members the better success the club will have for the year.

BUILDING THE WORLD

VICA stands for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. This club consists of 28 members. They meet every day during 5-2 to discuss and contribute to club activities. If they are not able to meet during 5-2, they may talk with their sponsor, Paul Kimbrell, anytime throughout the day to give him suggestions and ideas.

Students interested in trade, technical or health occupations are encouraged to join VICA. The different trades include graphic arts, electronics, auto mechanics, welding, machine shop, building trades, and drafting.

VICA officers for the 1999-2000 school year are president Johnathan Adams; vice president Matthew Shrum; secretary John Brock; treasurer Jason Flaughter; reporter Jason Taylor; and parliamentarian Douglas Horton. Paul Kimbrell has been the sponsor for nine consecutive years.

VICA participates in many activities including the annual Homecoming float contest, fund raisers, and state competition. VICA has also placed either first or second in the Homecoming parade float contest for the past five years. The prize money and the money collected from fund raisers were used to help pay for registration fees, activities, and donations.

Trade workers are presently in high demand due to the small numbers of qualified workers and the necessity of their skills. If you are thinking of pursuing a career in this field, do not hesitate to get a head start and join VICA. It's a good investment in your future ... you won't regret it.

BAND

... AND THE BEAT GOES ON

The Warrior band is a group of very dedicated and talented students who put in many hours to sound as great as they can. They can be heard at GCHS basketball games, football games, parades, and also at their band competitions.

Ben Jackels returned for his third year at the helm of the marching band and was once again assisted by Wyatt Roberts. Mr. Jackels directs the marching and concert bands, as well as the Steel City Sound, while Mr. Roberts directs the Jazz Band.

The Marching Band receives most of the attention during the fall. Students first begin their practicing at band camp two weeks before the start of the school year. The season lasts until the end of October. This year, the band performed to "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory" at competitions in O'Fallon, Murphysboro, Eastern Illinois University, and Newton. Three other concerts are performed throughout the year: the Christmas concert on December 9th, the Spring concert on March 23rd, and the Pops in the Park on May 5th.

Besides the marching band, students can also audition for the Jazz Band, Concert Band, and the Steel City Sound.

The Jazz band performs at the Christmas concert along with the marching band. The jazz band also has a concert in the spring and visits many Granite City elementary schools throughout the school year.

The Steel City Sound, recognizable by their red shirts, can be heard at all the home basketball games. They also give performances at the GC schools.

The concert band performs in many events throughout the spring, including the IHSA State Concert Band Competition which is held on April 15th.

The band students work continuously to help exhibit Warrior pride through their music. They remain a vital part of our school and everyone appreciates their effort and good music.

MUSIC

THE SOUNDS OF MUSIC

Whether it's rap, classical, jazz, country, or rock n roll almost everyone worldwide listens to music. The same holds true for GCHS students. However, these students don't just sit back and listen, they also want to be part of the action. They enjoy the feeling of being on stage and singing anything from Christmas music to show tunes. For all of these reasons Mrs. Gail Mueller's chorus classes are popular.

The GCHS Vocal Music Department is composed of four different choirs: Girls Glee Club, Contando, Advanced Mixed Chorus, and Swing Choir. While all of the music classes are taught by Gail Mueller, each class is special and has its own unique sound.

Swing Choir has the honor of attending the State Music concert and performing at annual State Musicals.

Advanced Mixed Chorus is blessed with the opportunity to display their wonderful talents to the community. Which brings delight to everyone who listens.

Last, but not least is Girls Glee. This class is different from the other chorus classes, as it is only offered for a half hour. Girls Glee has the privilege of putting on Christmas and spring concerts in the high school auditorium.

Under the direction of Gail Mueller the chorus classes are able to perfect their singing abilities and mesmerizes their audience with beautiful music.

THREE CHEERS FOR THOSE WHO CHEER

There is a saying that states, behind every great man there is a great woman. This proves true for the Warrior cheerleaders. By supporting their team at every game and raising everyone's spirit, they show how important they are to the sports.

The girls do fundraisers throughout the year to purchase shirts, jackets and bags. Candy sales and the selling of candles this year was very profitable for many of them. A cheerleading clinic was also held as another fundraiser. It taught basic cheerleading skills and jumps to younger girls. Working at the haunted barn for a weekend also helped to bring in additional money.

A great deal of dedication is needed to make each cheering season successful. Practice is an important part and so is participating in the activities for the team. Dedication is not only needed from the squad, but from the sponsor. Much free time is given up to see that the squad has a wonderful season.

Janet Williams coached the varsity and junior varsity football squads. She also was in charge of both freshman squads for fall and winter sports. Jennifer Simon coached varsity and junior varsity soccer. Diane Peach was in charge of both wrestling squads. Denise Spalding coached varsity and junior varsity basketball squads.

The squads and the sponsors work together to make the season worthwhile. In the end, it is a very successful and always a fun year for everyone.

COLOR GUARD

KEEPING IN STEP

There are many chances at this high school to get involved. Some of these opportunities include clubs, sports, and the performance teams. The color guard is one of these hard-working teams.

Their season starts with a flag camp at the University of Illinois, where the girls spend one week learning the basic skills. Then the color guard practices with the GCHS band, which begins two weeks before the beginning of school. The girls get up early and stay late to create and practice the field shows that are performed at football games during halftime.

This year the theme of the field show was "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory." The field show featured music performed by the band from the movie. The color guard members dressed as flag twirling Oompa-Loompas. Their costume consisted of the traditional white overalls, brown shirts, green wigs, and orange faces that are so common among Oompa-Loompas. The color guard's performance was both fun and entertaining for the crowd, as well as the girls.

This year's squad was lead by captains Jamie Jones and Jennifer Ambuehl who worked their best to keep the girls working hard and motivated. The captains were both impressed with the performance and dedication of the girls and have bright hopes for next year.

DANCE, DANCE, DANCE, DANCE

The Pom-pon squad of Granite City High School consisted of sixteen of our schools most hard-working, outgoing, and talented dancers. The poms started the year with a summer camp for the squad where they brushed-up on their skills and learned the latest dance moves. The girls then make up their own routine for the half-time shows and perfect it. After many long hours of hard work the girls take their dance routine to competitions around the area and state. They must participate in three competitions before qualifying for super sectionals and finally state competition.

The captains for this year were Julie Scott, Kristen Bernaix, and Megan Bilyeu. Their adult sponsor was Vanessa Mattern.

The poms provided entertainment for the crowds at many of the High School's sporting events. They perform during the half-times of Football, Basketball, Soccer games, and pep rallies.

In order to pay for new uniforms and their trips to competition, the poms hold many fundraisers. Some of the year's fundraisers included a raffle for best seat in the house, selling homecoming cookies, santa grams and butter braids. The poms also held their yearly clinic in the summer for young girls. At the clinic the girls were taught the basics of dance, were able to learn about the squad's experience as a pom-pom. This has always been a successful event.

The girls agree that the squad became very close after their long hours of hard work spent together. It is easy to see all of their teamwork and preparation after one of their great performances.

WINTER PLAY

DEARLY DEPARTED

Beverly Söröggi chose "Dearly Departed," a play by David Britt and Jess Edwards, as the winter play this year. It takes place in Texas, based around the Turpin family. Their father, Bud, has passed away suddenly from a stroke. The family is trying to cope with the funeral without killing each other first. All families have problems, but this family tops them all.

Raynele (Camille Fensterman) the widow and Delightful (Tara Sander) Bud's daughter, who is constantly eating, tries to cope with his death any way they can.

Ray-Bud (Andrew Ravinelli) is the one stuck with all the funeral bills. His wife, Lucille (Babe Jo Hunt) is a kind, loving woman who would do anything to please Ray-Bud, but she does have one problem, she cannot have children.

Junior (Richard Skirball) is the youngest son, who wasted all of his money on a machine that cleans parking lots. Suzanne (Theresa Hatley) is Junior's wife who suspects him of infidelity which causes problems between them.

Marguerite (Amy Kriehok) is Bud's religious sister who believes her son Royce (Andrew Eliff) is the devil incarnate. He has no future for his life, he wants to live off of welfare.

As the funeral nears the family looks to friends for comfort. Reverend B. S. Hooker (John Mell) tries to comfort the family by bringing out the good parts of Bud. Clyde (David Eliff) is Ray-Bud's boss who assures him that if he needs his help he will take care of anything, "if you get my drift." Juanita (Jessica Worthen) is a rich cousin by marriage. She helps Suzanne to realize that she is not the only one who has a cheating husband, but she still loves him anyway. Nadine (Megan Blyeul) shows Lucille that you do not have to have children to be happy.

During the funeral, things begin to become better for the family members. Suzanne realizes Junior really does love her. Ray-Bud tells Lucille that he does not need children to be happy, he just needs her. Marguerite and Royce face their problems, but they still love each other. Delightful still goes on to eat continuously. Raynele tells Bud she will miss him, but not to get upset if she remarries. All in all, the family became closer, because of Bud's death.

The cast enjoyed the opportunity to perform in this play. Time and effort put forth by them, was well worth it in the end. Audience members were constantly laughing, which assured everyone it was a job well done.

A STRIKING NEW TEAM

The GCHS bowling team returned this year for its sophomore season. Last year, Bill Puhse took the reign as coach and started the team, which got a very positive response immediately.

There are 32 members on the bowling team, 16 boys and 16 girls. The team is hoping to do as well, or improve, last year's rookie season, which was a success. The boys varsity team ended with a 8-4 record while the girls ended with a 6-6 record. The team dominated in their season opener against Belleville West this year. Two games were played against each conference team, one at AMF Bowl, the bowlers home lanes, and one at the opposing school's home lanes.

Mr. Puhse returned as coach of the team this year. He is assisted by Tim Wilson and Randy Choat. The assistant coaches helped out greatly with the junior varsity team. Because all four matches take place at the same time, Mr. Puhse, Mr. Wilson, and Mr. Choat stay quite busy helping the team and setting up the bowling order.

Though bowling is a sport usually played for recreational purposes, it is catching on as a high school competition quite rapidly. Many more students tried out for the team compared to the previous year. The bowling team looks to be the start of a tradition not ready to die anytime soon. Good luck, bowlers.

BOYS BASKETBALL

HARD WORK = SUCCESS

The GCHS boys basketball team entered the season with high hopes toward the upcoming year. Two of last season's starters, Matt Pistorius and Zack May, returned this season prepared to lead the team to a great year.

The season had its ups and downs. The Warriors were able to beat conference rival Edwardsville at their place early in the season, and also beat Belleville East, one of the top ten teams in the area. In the Collinsville tournament, the Warriors beat their first two opponents which took them to the semifinals. They finished fourth after a tough double overtime loss to Collinsville in the third place game. In early January the Warriors played East St. Louis, the top team in the area as well as the state. After leading through almost the entire first half the Warriors fell just short of what could have been an amazing upset, but the team proved that they could play with anybody in the state.

The team is once again coached by John VanBuskirk. The junior varsity team was coached by Carl Luehmann, the sophomore team by David Weller, and the freshmen team by Raffi Karibian.

This year's team captains were Matt Pistorius and Zack May. They did an excellent job of leading the team on the floor and finished first and second on the team in scoring.

The Warriors gave all the fans a very exciting and memorable year. They went onto the court every night ready to win and are a great example of a high school basketball team.

SOCCER

ALMOST BETTER THAN THE REST

The tradition of the Warrior Soccer team is as special as that of any high school in the area, state, or possibly even the country. No high school in the state of Illinois has won as many state championships as Granite City and no other coach has won more games than Coach Gene Baker.

The 1999 Warrior squad was prepared to give their greatest effort at winning the eleventh state championship under Coach Baker, but came up short. However, this cannot overshadow the very good year the Warriors had. The team finished with a record of 16-8-2 against an extremely difficult schedule.

The season contained an amazing 1-0 victory over nationally ranked CBC, a casual win over rival Collinsville, a victory over the then undefeated O'Fallon Panthers, and an incredible run to the Tournament of Champions finals in which they defeated defending Missouri small schools champion, Aquinas Mercy, in penalty play and a very accomplished Howell North team in the semifinals in sudden death overtime, but barely lost to nationally ranked Channahon in the finals.

Coach Baker reached another milestone this season when he notched his 300th win. Junior varsity coach Virgil Kirksey led the junior varsity team to a very strong season. Coach Kirksey retired after the 1999 season and will be missed by the players and coaches.

Many of the players received honors this year. Junior forward Michael Smith was voted All-Conference, and All-State. Senior captains Jared McMillan and Justin Roeth both were named All-Conference. Jared McMillan was also voted team MVP by the coaches, and Senior Christopher Mertz was given the David Morgan Award for gentlemanly character and sportsmanship.

The Warriors had six underclassmen starting near the end of the season and therefore should be just as strong, if not more so, next season. Maybe 2000 will be the year for that eleventh state title everybody has been waiting for. Good bye to the graduating soccer players, and good luck to all who remain.

GOING THE DISTANCE

Each August, GCHS's most enduring students go out for the cross-country team. Coached by Tom Haefner, Paul Greve, and Tom Miller, the team improves greatly each year.

This year's boys varsity team consisted of seniors Kevin Atkins and Richard Skirball, juniors Andrew Balcer, Gerald Curtis, James Murphy, sophomore Jim Treacle and newcomer Josh Stillwell. The girls varsity team consisted of seniors Angela Kromraj, and Kellie Evans and junior Penelope Meyer.

Practice is held daily after school until approximately 5:00 P.M. After practice the team members were required to do warm down exercises.

Each meet usually consists of a boys varsity, girls varsity, boys junior varsity or open races, and girls junior varsity or open races. The boys are required to run approximately 3 miles while girls are required to run 2.5 miles.

This year, the boys varsity team along with girls varsity team member Penelope Meyer all advanced to the sectional race in Centralia. Although no one advanced further to state, everyone who participated did well.

To wrap up the season, the awards ceremony was held on Wednesday, November 10. The awards for most improved went to Angela Kromraj and Sarah Stillwell. Kevin Atkins won the award for most valuable player. The team excelled this year, and hopefully will improve even more for state level competition next year.

FOOTBALL

PIGSKINS & GRIDIRONS

Football is a sport that is looked forward to every fall season. It is a high contact sport where control of the ball can change at anytime. That is exactly what happened this year. The Varsity put up a hard fight and were close to a victory each time.

The team finished with three wins, six losses. At the beginning of the season the Warriors worked hard to win a game. Losing the first six games did not stop the team from losing spirit. They stayed strong and won their last three games. Incidentally they were all Homecoming games. Belleville West brought the turning point for the team. We scored the extra point in overtime to proclaim victory. The win over the Redbirds was a huge success. We were in constant control of the ball which led to another win to add to our record. On a roll the Warriors were down to their last game. The 1999 Homecoming game and the last time the Seniors would play on the field. The Spirit of winning was in the air. Although the Flyers scored first we pulled through in the end. We had fulfilled our task by "Flushing the Flyers".

The varsity team is coached by Nick Petrillo, who has been coach for the past four years. Three men he cannot do without are his assistants: Tim Moran, Daren DePew and Ron Yates.

The sophomore team finished with a strong 8-1 season. They lost their first game and never wanted to have that feeling again. Coaches are Carl Luehmann and Greg Garland.

The freshman put up a tough fight finishing 3-6. They have great potential for upcoming years. Chuck Kraus coached the freshman team this year. Brian Harshany and Joe Wallace also helped with the team this year.

HOOP IT UP

To be a part of any team takes skill and dedication. Every year the girls basketball team works hard to meet their goals and make improvements.

Jessica Wallace, a senior starting on the varsity team, was named captain for this last year. Other seniors on the varsity team were Sarah Luehmann and Della Moore. The rest of the team included juniors Christina Withers, Ashley Bogovich, Jessica Vasiloff, and Leighann Worthen, sophomores, Kelly Mitchell, Sarah Kuehnel and Erin Tyler, and freshman Brittany Kult.

John Moad has the privilege of being the returning head coach of the varsity team for 3 years. Junior varsity is coached by Bruce Frank. Paul Macios is in charge of the freshman team. The coaches agree that they hope for a good season next year with talented players such as Kelly Mitchell, Erin Tyler and Brittany Kult.

The girls started the season optimistically by winning two games in the Alton Tourney during Thanksgiving. They also participated in the Nashville Tourney over Christmas break. In addition to tournaments and games, the girls attend daily practices from 3:30 to approximately 5:15 Monday through Friday. Occasionally, the team also had practice on Saturday mornings.

It takes much dedication to be successful at any sport. Girls basketball is no exception. The team worked hard to play their best. They look forward to another fulfilling season next winter.

GIRLS TENNIS

ONE TEAM - ONE GOAL

Another good year has passed for the 1999 girls tennis team. Practice began over the summer in the second week of August. Their hard work and dedication has been a lasting factor in making the team intimidating to other schools. The season began with a win over McCluer North. A 6-9 record concluded the final season of the 20th century at Granite City High School.

The graduating seniors for the varsity team this year are Julia LeMaster, Krista Morton, Beth Seibold, and Kathryn Isom. Juniors on the varsity team include Jolene Harris, Ashley Burdge, Sarah Doty and Jill Jenkins. Sarah Dettwiler is the only sophomore and Tiffany Rath the lone freshman.

The coaches for this year's girls tennis team were Mrs. Linda Ames and assistant, Ms. Julie Klueter. Together, they are always trying to keep the team pumped and focused on the next point. As usual, they are looking forward to the upcoming year and expecting improvement from the freshmen.

At the Civic Memorial Tournament, the team placed second to Jerseyville for the second straight year. Each member of the team who placed was awarded a medal for their hard work. The Conference Tournament was hosted by Granite City this year. All ten varsity starters participated and the team placed fifth at Conferences. Another tournament for only the junior varsity team was held at Edwardsville High School.

At the season ending banquet, the members received their individual awards. Mrs. Linda Ames and Ms. Julie Klueter handed out special awards to the Most Valuable Players, Beth Seibold and Kathryn Isom. The next set of awards were the coaches awards. Freshman Amanda Smothers won this award for working so hard during the season and senior Krista Morton won this award for the hard work and time she put into the 2nd place homecoming tennis float. It was also announced that Kathryn Isom, Beth Seibold and Julie Lemaster won Honorable Mention Awards for the Southwestern Conference.

All in all, the girls had a fun year and hope to see some young new talent to begin a new season. Good luck next year girls.

SWING TIME

One main staple of Granite City High School is a competitive golf team. This year's team was no exception. Led by captains Brett Briggs and Jeff Jerden, the golf team performed very well, ending the season with a record of sixteen wins and four losses.

The boys also placed well in all the tournaments including placing third in the Alton Redbird Classic, second at the Quincy Tournament, third at Mascoutah, first at the O'Fallon Tournament, and finishing fourth in the region. On an individual note Brett Briggs won the scoring average title with a nine-hole average of 38.9. Junior Ryan McAteer hit a hole in one during a match at Sunset Hills, the first ever shot by the GCHS golf team.

The team's season ended with a fifth place finish at sectionals; but all things considered, it was an outstanding year. Senior Briggs was voted All Conference and second team All Metro. Jerden was also voted second team All Metro and he and senior Ty Suhre were voted second team All Conference.

The Warriors were coached by Mr. Boone Chaney who was assisted by Mr. Allen Lobdell. Both coaches were proud of the boys hard work and dedication. The team is losing a good group of seniors, but the coaches were impressed with the young talent and have bright hopes for the next few years.

VOLLEYBALL

COURTING SUCCESS

This year the volleyball season started on August 31 with a home match against the Civic Memorial Eagles. Excitement was in the air as the Lady Warriors looked forward to another eventful season. No one could tell what would happen, but the team was hopeful.

The varsity team was led by head coach Ruth Layton and consisted of five seniors and six juniors. Captains this year were Jessica Worthen and Jessica Wallace. The ladies also participated in two tournaments this year: The Granite City Fall Classic, in which Ashley Bogovich was named tournament MVP, and the Collinsville Invitational. The team ended the regular season with only two victories, but hoped for the best in Regionals. Unfortunately, the Warriors lost in the first round to the Springfield Senators.

The junior varsity team was coached by Stephanie Kult, the freshman coach from last year. The team was dedicated and gave their all; the varsity squad will be lucky to have them next season.

Student teacher, Jill Randell, headed the freshmen squad this year. The freshmen were eager to learn and enthusiastic about the season. They started out the season really well with several victories. They will be tremendous assets to the other squads next season.

WRESTLING

GRAPPLERS VICTORIOUS ONCE AGAIN

The wrestling team is a group of some of the most outstanding athletes at GCHS. They have upheld a strong winning tradition for many years. The wrestlers understand the meaning of dedication to the sport. They put in many hours of practicing Monday through Saturday and even an occasional Sunday and holidays.

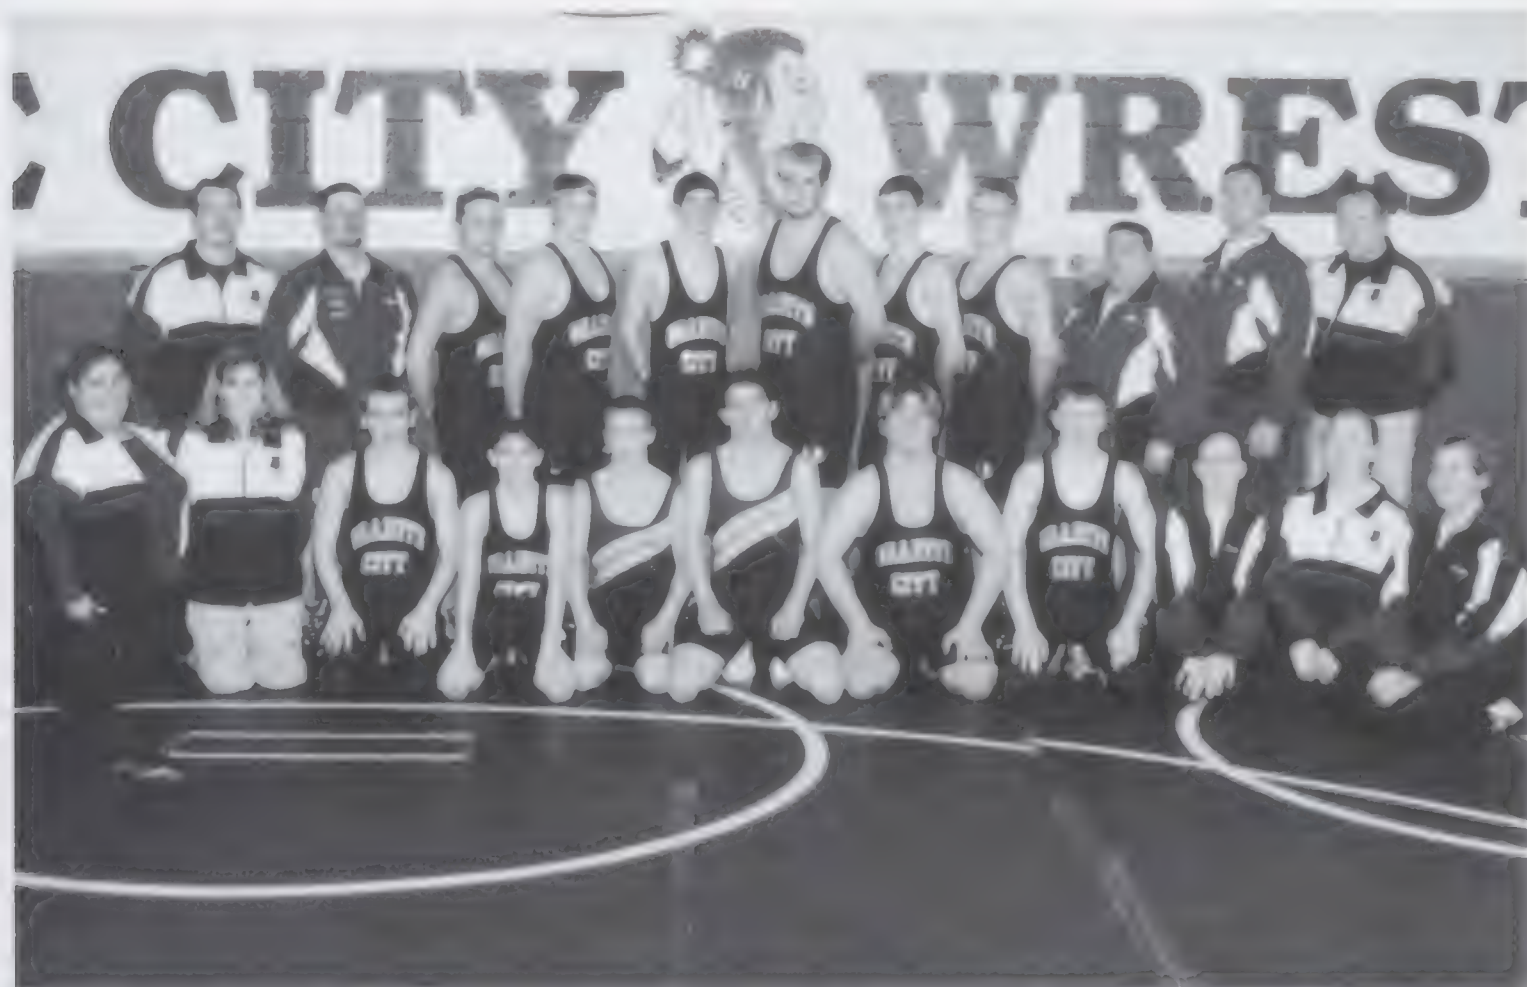

The Warrior practices start with light stretching and calisthenics. The wrestlers then learn new moves and perfect old ones with each other, then they run and run. On days after meets the wrestlers that lost must wrestle in challenge matches to keep their starting spot on the team.

All of the wrestling teams hard work paid off again this year. The varsity team placed fourth in the Springfield Tournament, first in the William "Red" Schmitt Holiday Tournament, fourth in the Morton Tournament, and sixth in the Geneseo Tournament. The junior varsity placed fourth in the Oakville Junior Varsity Tournament, first in the Holiday Tournament, third place in the Annual Walt Whitaker Junior Varsity Tournament. The freshmen showed real potential placing first in the Granite City Freshmen Invitational, and first in the Holiday Tournament.

Wrestlers Steven Peach, Jacob Tritan, Thomas Tedesco, and George Kirgan all qualified for the State tournament in Champaign, Illinois. George Kirgan placed third once again this year. Twenty-one team members participated in team state as well.

The Warrior wrestlers continued the great tradition of wrestling that GCHS holds. This year's team posted a record of 20 wins and 2 losses. The coaches were very pleased with the performance of the team this year and have a bright outlook for the future.

BASEBALL

SWINGING FOR THE FENCES

Baseball is one of the first things anyone thinks of when spring rolls around, and it is the only thing on the player's minds. The dedicated ball players and coaches are always willing to put in hard work in hopes of a very successful season.

The coaches were once again ready to take on the challenge of putting the best team possible out on the field. The varsity coaches were Gus Lignoul and Daren DePew. John Moad and Mike Bryant coached the sophomore team, and Don Harris and Tim Wilson coached the freshmen.

The seniors on the team were prepared to provide the on-field leadership necessary to keep the team positive and focused. Seniors on the team this year were Jason Acord, Anthony Komoromi, Theodore Millas, Elliot Dine, Dustin Murphy, Steven Ward, Matthew Mercer, and Sean Courtney. These seniors helped their younger teammates with any questions or problems.

The Warriors had posted a record of 13 wins and 21 losses at the end of their season. They had big wins against Centralia and Christian Brothers College. Sadly, they lost a close game to Belleville East, one of the best teams on both sides of the river. The sophomore team posted a record of 10 wins and 18 losses. They too had a big win against St. Louis powerhouse CBC. The freshmen had a record of 17 wins and 9 losses and showed positive signs that there are good things in the years to come.

The Warrior fans were very proud of the players. The team showed great adversity and competitiveness. The seniors left with great memories and the underclassmen are ready to make some new ones next year.

BOYS TENNIS

TENNIS IS SERVED

Each spring the boys tennis team starts the season with high goals. This year was no exception. This year's team was very young but they showed a lot of potential. The boys set a goal to improve last year's record. To do this, the boys practiced long on conditioning and the basic skills of tennis. Also, they want to advance a singles and or a doubles team to the state tournament.

The 1999 Warrior tennis team is coached by Allen Lobdell and Raffi Karibian. This year's team consists of one senior, Tim Knowlton, who plays number four singles. Five juniors, four of which play on the varsity team these include at number three Eric Wright, number five is Jarod McMillian, number two is Jason Woodson, number six is Harry Painter. Six sophomores, including Andrew Balcer who kept his spot at number one singles. The Warriors have much hope for the future adding six freshmen.

The biggest upsets that happened this season were when Andrew Balcer defeated the number one player from Belleville East and West. He accomplished this task in three sets. Without the hard work and time put into his game, Andrew would not have been able to accomplish this great honor.

The team started the season at 500 and planned to improve their record by the end of the year. They ended the season with 10 wins and 5 losses.

GIRLS SOCCER

A KICK ABOVE THE REST

The girls' soccer team led by Coach Gene Baker started the season with optimism. They knew that with hard work and dedication they could possibly go to the state competition.

The girls started the season on March 27 with a game against the Alton Redbirds. After that, their schedule was packed with games. The regular season ended on May 15 against Sacred Heart Griffin. State competitions began on May 21 with the IHSA regionals.

"We feel we have the potential to be state champions. I feel it is a tribute to the girls to aspire to be in the state tournament," stated Coach Baker with regard to the season.

The girls had the opportunity to play against two tough teams, St. Joseph and Incarnate Word. Along with several other tournaments, the team also played in the St. Dominic tournament.

Team captains this year were Crystal Cavins and Melissa Montgomery, both seniors. This year the team consisted of not only experience, but also high levels of skill.

Although the team had many challenges to face, they knew that they could overcome these difficulties if they put their minds to it. The team ended the season with a very good record.

No matter what the outcome, this season was one of mixed emotions. Some were probably disappointed while others might have viewed this season as a successful one. One thing is for sure, this season was definitely a special one for the seniors.

SOFTBALL

YOU WIN SOME, YOU LOSE SOME

Softball is a sport of teamwork, individual dedication, and skill. The season definitely proved that the entire GCHS softball team possessed each of these qualities.

The 1999 varsity team was coached by Mrs. Deb Germann, who was in her fourth year of coaching at GCHS. Germann's assistant coach was Brian Harshany. Both coaches are very proud of the team.

The 13 varsity players practiced everyday after school until 5:30. The practices consisted of sprints, throwing, catching, hitting, and running. When the players were not on the field they practiced individually. Each player showed great dedication.

The team had high hopes coming into the season. They participated in the Cahokia tournament and played other games against top competition. When the season was over, they finished with nine wins and thirteen losses. Robyn Slater and Jessica Reader were named team co-MVPs. Slater was a First Team All-Conference player and team defensive player of the year. She finished with a .347 batting average. Reader received honorable mention for the All-Conference Team and finished with a .352 batting average.

"I had a good team, I was very impressed by each player's dedication to the team. We had a good season and finished it well," stated Deb Germann.

Throughout the season, the lady warriors worked hard to win and improve their softball skills. Hopefully next year the team can have the same success, if not more, than these ladies enjoyed.

TRACK

RUNNING ON TRACK

From the chilly days in February to the warm days of late May, the GCHS track team worked hard every step of the way. Before the official season began, winter conditioning was held for those who wanted to get in shape early. Winter conditioning consists of stretching, weight lifting, and running around the park.

The head coach of the GCHS track team is Gene Briggs. He has been a coach for 22 years, and this is his fifth year coaching at this school. The other coaches are Larry Curry, who coaches field events, Tom Miller, who coaches long distance running, Cindy Christopher, who coaches short distance running, Richard Skirball, who coaches jumping events, and Sheila Reiter, who coaches aerobics.

Practices are very hard work for the members of the team. Practice begins with a talk from Coach Briggs about the performance of the team, upcoming meets, and team stats. Following that is a warm-up where they stretch and do calisthenics. Then they divide themselves according to their events and do special work appropriately. Members concluded practice with a warm down.

There are many events at a track meet. Long distance events include the 800, the mile run, and the 2 mile run. Short distance running consists of the 50 yard dash, 100 yard dash, the 200, and the 400. The field events are the shot put and the discus throw, and the jumping events include the high jump, the long jump, the triple jump, and the hurdles. The relays include the 4x100, 4x200, 4x400, and the 4x800.

The first meet of the year is the SIU at Carbondale Indoor Invitational. Other invitationals were the Panther and the Collinsville Invitationals for the girls, and the Belleville West, Freshmen, Marion, and Collinsville Invitationals for the boys.

MY FAIR LADY

The Granite City High School Speech Department presented "My Fair Lady" as this year's spring musical. The production was directed by Mary Bright, with choreography by Margaret Holland Penner. The performances took place on April 28, 29, and 30.

"My Fair Lady" is a story set in London during the year 1912. The story centers around a young, ambitious cockney lady named Eliza Doolittle (Amy Penner), who is taken in by a very distinguished linguist and author Professor Henry Higgins (Jacob Kampfhofner). Colonel Hugh Pickering (Ryan Moenster), challenges Higgins into teaching the poor flower girl how to speak and act like a proper lady, and Higgins accepts the challenge. When Eliza's father, Alfred P. Doolittle (Richard Skiba), is told where his daughter is, he approaches Higgins with an offer of five pounds for him to keep and tutor his daughter.

After Eliza's intense training, Higgins puts her to the first test. He tries to convince people she is a high class society lady at the Ascot Opening Races. All goes well until Freddy Eynsford-Hill (Christopher Singleton), kindly gives Eliza his ticket to the horse he bet on, Dover. Eliza accidentally slips, using her street cockney voice, when she enthusiastically cheers for Dover.

The final challenge for Eliza is to see if she can be passed as a Duchess at the Embassy Ball. Everyone was convinced Eliza was a Duchess, and the event was a great success for Higgins and Pickering, but Eliza thinks differently about the occasion. She becomes upset with Higgins and returns to the streets of London, where her old-time friends cease to recognize her. There she meets her father, who surprises her with his plans to be married in the morning. Eliza decides to return to Higgins's house with a true desire to stay in his presence.

Other main actors and actresses include Mrs. Higgins (Natasha Mandaracino), Mrs. Pearce (Lora Smalman), Harry (David Elliff), Mrs. Hopkins (Camille Fenstermann), Lord Boxington (Andrew Ravanelli), Lady Boxington (Jennifer O'Beir), Queen of Transylvania (Rosemarie Horstmann); Sir Reginald (Tom Petrillo); and Mrs. Eynsford-Hill (Julie Mills).

Henry Higgins's house staff include Amanda Boone, Andy Elliff, Marc Johnson, Steve Kirkpatrick, Amy Kreshok, Melissa Lueke, and Madrigal Vorce.

PROM

OH WHAT A NIGHT

Music, sounds of laughter. A glamorous dress and a fancy tuxedo. Sore feet. All these things remind us of one of the most memorable nights of our lives... the prom.

This spring, romance was felt by all who attended this festive event. Some couples came alone, while others came in groups to double the pleasure, double the fun.

What a spectacular night it was. The 1999 senior prom, entitled "Here in the Night," took place on Saturday, April 24, at the Pipefitters Hall in Florissant, Missouri.

Prom participants dined on a steamboat round, fried chicken, rolls, fettucini, corn, and Italian salad. After a wonderful meal, dancing, socializing, and more photographing got underway.

Dates escorted their non-school, past graduate dates from one side of the hall to the other, seeing how many names and faces they could remember. Others alternated dancing and talking to friends throughout the evening.

The dance floor was packed, especially during the romantic slow songs, as everyone swayed to the music. Many ladies and gentlemen, however, took off their shoes and danced in their bare feet as the evening progressed.

It was also a night of sophistication. All the young men were dressed in tuxedos, both with and without tails. The girls matched their young men, perhaps even outdid them with their beautiful formal attire. These lovely ladies displayed dresses in all styles, lengths, and colors.

At 11 p.m. the celebration wound down with the final dance. When "Looking Through Your Eyes," began to play, couples knew that the long-awaited evening was drawing to an end. The 1999 prom would remain a special memory for all those who attended.

MAY CAROUSEL REHEARSAL

PRACTICE, PRACTICE

On Saturday, May 15, 1999, May Carousel was held in the gymnasium. But before the actual event, the participants had to rehearse so everything would run smoothly.

The students who were chosen to be a part of May Carousel met on Thursday, May 13 to practice. Those chosen to be on May Carousel court, Senior Dance, and to be a part of the May Pole were all required to attend. Many girls wore their high heels so they could get the feel of bowing and dancing in the gym.

The practice lasted approximately an hour. After practice, the girls had only two days to wait in anticipation before they performed on Saturday night.

1. May Carousel Court Practice: Melanie England, Christine Spudich, Stephanie Ambuehl, Candice Johnson, Cara Nighohossian, Leah Gamblin, Sara Halbrook, Julie Mills, Dimana Spudich, Katie Serrano. 2. Christopher Singleton and Marc Johnson were chosen to sing to the senior girls. 3. Senior Dance girls: ROW 1: Carissa Ridenour, Peggy Hammond, Linda Dohnal. ROW 2: Debra Aaron, Natasha Mangiaracino, Tisha Gilliam, Cheyenne Modglin, Cassie Nighohossian, Veronica Bazzel. GRADUATION PRACTICE: 1. Linda Dohnal hands her picture money to Lifetouch photographer, Steve. 2. Allen Kennerly gives graduation instructions and shows the students how to properly walk across the stage. 3. Debbie Wilkerson, Steve Hamilton, and Jerry McKeachan. 4. Amy Pennell walks across the stage after receiving her diploma. 5. Nichole Smith, Kimberly Snell, Christine Spudich, Dimana Spudich, Dawn Staggs, Laura Stille, and Justin Stone. 6. Nicholas Zotti waits his turn to enter the field. 7. Students wait to proceed onto the graduation field.

THE FINAL REHEARSAL

On Friday, May 28, 1999 the seniors took their final steps as students of Granite City High School. To prepare for this major event, they met on the football field the day before for a mandatory practice.

Administrators Steve Hamilton, Jerry McKechnan, Allen Kennerly, Cindy Gagich, and Debbie Wilkerson read the names of the graduates. The graduates who were absent from practice had their names removed from the list and were not able to participate in the formal ceremony. The seating was then reorganized accordingly.

For those in attendance, tomorrow would be the big day they took their final walk as GCHS seniors. Once they crossed the stage, their future's dreams were endless. Good luck and good bye.

SENIORS SAY FAREWELL

The first day of kindergarten seems like only yesterday to most. High school graduation was not even thought of then, the kindergarteners were just anxious to get to grade school. But, rather quickly, the years passed and high school crept into the back of each student's mind. Before they knew it, they were actually attending high school and it was quite an accomplishment to persevere throughout the entire schooling process, from that first day of kindergarten to that last day of the twelfth grade. Graduation was a momentous occasion for sure, one worth celebrating and remembering.

"Pomp and Circumstance" filled the air. It was May 28 and the 1999 senior class of Granite City High School, heads held high, marched from one end of the football field to the other.

Nealie Ingram sang the national anthem as the evening began. Superintendent Dr. Steve Balen and Principal R. William Rotter spoke words of encouragement to the graduates, and challenged them to make a difference in the future.

Valedictorian Cory Simpson and co-valedictorian Leah Gamblin shared the spotlight. Cory's speech encouraged the graduates to make the right choices in their lives, and Leah urged them to be successful in whatever they did.

Cameras flashed as eager parents wiped away tears while their children walked across the stage and received his or her diploma. It was a bittersweet day for all.

As the students of the senior class of 1999 say good-bye to high school and adolescence forever, we would like to wish them all good luck. No matter what path these graduates follow, hopefully success and happiness may be found by each and every one of them.

THANK YOU

I, BETH MARIE SEIBOLD, would first like to thank everyone who worked on the 2000 yearbook. Mrs. Spudich thanks for letting me work on the book again this year. I had a lot of fun. Michelle, you're a very nice person, thanks for sharing the duties with me. Jay, thanks for being nice and for assigning all of us names at the beginning of the year. Charles, to one funny guy. Thanks for making yearbook a brighter place, and for making fun of me because I can't spell. Good luck next year. Kristin, you're a really nice person. Thanks for selling yearbooks at the beginning of the year. Mary, thanks for indexing and being a good listener. I'm glad that I got to know you better this year. Good Luck in college. Pat, thank you for your sarcastic humor and listening to me when I needed someone to talk to. I might not have taken all of your advice but it was greatly appreciated. Thanks for all of the rides in your truck. Lesa, I'm glad that we worked through all of the problems that occurred last year. From the beginning you knew what my personality was and you never judged me. That means a lot. Thanks for being a friend and I think yearbook was good for both of us. Kathryn, you're one of the nicest people that I know. Whenever I needed to talk you never hesitated to listen. I knew that I could always count on you. Everything will turn out all right with a certain subject, don't worry. Tennis was so much fun this year, to bad what I said in last years thank you didn't come true. Marissa, what can I say about you. I'm glad we became so close this year. I really don't know what I would have done without you. You've brought a different side of me out and I'm glad. We've talked about a lot of different things and theories and some I do believe are true. Thanks for giving me the push. I needed to go after what I really wanted. All the trips to the OLD NAVY TARGET and the GALLERIA. Never forget the incident outside of Dillard's. This summer will be a blast. Nick, you're the greatest guy I know. You've made me realize that things do happen for a reason. I think that you could say the Pasta House is filled with MANY memories and a person we will NEVER forget. I'm looking forward to what will happen next. Mrs. Ames for being someone I could always turn to. You made me realize a lot of things that I never thought of. Tennis will always be something I will never forget. Ms. Kluefer thanks for never introducing J.D. Drew to me. It will take some time but I will get over it sooner or later. To my Earth Science partner Katie. Earth Science was a blast. The friendly competition was good for both of us. Thanks for keeping me updated on your latest sagas. To bad we didn't get the class together second semester. Megan, to a great friend. Thanks again for the memorable birthday card. I'll keep you updated on certain subjects. Billie Jo, even though we only had one class together all year I knew I could always count on you. You are a very caring person and always could be yourself. That is something that I admire. Mom and Dad, thank you for letting me make my own decisions while at the same time voicing your own opinions. Also thank you for letting me be my own person, even though you might have not always agreed with the choices I made. If I forgot anyone I am sorry.

I, MICHELLE ANN CHARBONNIER, would like to thank everyone involved in my senior year. Mrs. Spudich, you are wonderful at what you do, not many people would put as much effort into it as you do. Thank you for your continuous help, support, and advice. I truly enjoyed working so closely with you. I hope you enjoy your retirement, with all the traveling you'll do. I'm sure you will. Beth, thank you for being the other half. We, as a whole, did a wonderful job, if I do say so myself. You possess some wonderful qualities. Good luck with your life. Lesa, you are a terrific person. You're a very hard worker and you added that special touch to the yearbook and the staff. I enjoyed all of our talks, it was nice knowing someone else felt the same way. Mary you work hard, especially on the index. Thank you for always having something to say. Jay, what can I say? You are very funny and great to work with. Thank you for always immediately doing what was asked of you. Marissa, you worked well on the yearbook and I enjoyed working with you. Kathryn, you are a very sweet gal. I hope you stay that way. Thank you for telling Patrick when he was being mean. Patrick, thank you for adding that sarcastic touch to the yearbook room. You never directly teased me the way you did the others and I appreciate that. To Kristin and Charles, the two juniors. Thank you for being you, you both are very distinct individuals and that is wonderful. I wish you both luck next year, you'll need it. Christine and Dimana, thank you for helping me with the surprise, and for always sending me good emails. Mom, thank you for being my best friend. I couldn't ask for a better mom. I hope to someday be as good as a woman as you are. Dad, thank you for being my daddy. You take very good care of me and I hope I do the same for you. To both of you thank you for taking care of all the errands and the little jobs I ask you to do for me. Mike, thanks for being the big brother everyone needs, and for always fixing what needs to be fixed on my car. It is nice to have someone that can help me with mom and dad. Ron, thank you for adding something to my life that no one else could ever do. Without you I fear that my life would be rather dull. To the rest of my family thank you for all of the love and support. Dominic, thank you for being there when I need you and for knowing me the way that you do. You are very special to me (words couldn't even explain) and it'll always be that way. I wish you luck in everything that you do. I know that everything you try at you will succeed. Deeanne, sorry Dominic came first, but you know how it is. Five years and counting, that's pretty good. Thank you for being the bestest friend a girl could ask for. You are one of the very few people I trust, and I will always treasure our friendship. Pat, thank you for being the best boss ever and for always reestablishing the fact that all guys are jerks. Thanks for all the cappuccinos and lunches. Jayla, you are a blast to work with. Thank you for always listening, always caring, and never replying my emails quick enough. Gail, thank you for working Thursday with me, even though you didn't want to. Seila Mae, John, and Tanya thank you for always having interesting conversations. To all the teachers I have had in my twelve years of schooling, thank you for teaching me to the best of your ability. Each and every one of you have touched me and I have walked out of your classroom forever changed. To all my friends, thank you for all the laughs, and good times. To my fellow classmates, I hope everyone of you have enjoyed high school. I wish you all the best of luck in everything everyone of you endures. If anyone feels forgotten I'm sorry, it wasn't intentional. To the 2001 yearbook staff, I wish you luck and I hope the book turns out well. Goodbye, good luck, and farewell!

I, LESA MARIE BYRD, would first and foremost like to thank Mrs. Spudich. For the past two years, you have taught me about how to make a yearbook. I have thoroughly enjoyed working with you as my advisor, and the class next year will suffer a great loss. I also had a great time in Kansas City and Cancun last year and I am looking forward to the trips this year. Okay, so I lied about Kansas City because I had pneumonia, but Mexico really was fun. Secondly, I would like to thank Beth Seibold, great and all-powerful co-editor. The end of last year was a little rough, but we made it through, and I am really glad, because I value the friendship between us. You are very quiet and reserved, but never look at that as a weakness, because it can really come in handy if you ever need to hold back. I think you would know how to interpret that. Once again, I am going to thank you for understanding most every subtle hint I give when something displeases me. I think Kansas City will be fun this year because we will not have Mr. Neurotic there. Now I would like to thank Michelle Charbonnier the other great and all-powerful co-editor. I have had a ton of fun with you this year as well as last. You always know how to make a good situation out of something bad. I had many lovely conversations with you this year, we always seem to be on the same plane, and I like that. Also thanks for the talk in the van in Kansas City, we got to be the sick ones together. Mary "Lowrider" Lofink, I would like to thank you next for always having something to say. You are a very nice person, and the "Index Queen". You never complain for doing some of the work that nobody else wants, and that's good because you would have had to do it anyway, and nobody likes a whiner. Just kidding. John "Jay" Anthony Gensert, I would first like to thank you for singing to me. I think you are really going somewhere with that voice. Also, thanks for all the work you do, and I want you to know that someone appreciates you. And thanks for actually being involved in yearbook this year. Kathryn Isom, thanks for having such a calming effect in the room. It can become very tense, and you always keep your cool during it all. Thanks for trying to weasel people out of money in the NHS United Way drive with me, I had a nice talk with you and it was good to know that I am right sometimes. Marissa Cox, I would like to thank you for always being a nice person, I have had you in many classes along the way, and you are always fun to talk to. Thanks for all the fun memories during the Spanish movie we made for Mrs. Larsen. Patrick "genius, oh he's so hot" Thomas, where do I start? Having you in almost all of my classes, I would first like to thank you for being a person I can have an intelligent conversation with, even though it may start rumors. Thanks for all the snide comments that of course are said with so much friendly love. Thanks for always being right even though sometimes you're not, but you're always up to an argument. You are the chemistry god. I think Creagan's thank you pretty much sums up the rest, except you know I would not be that mean about it. Charles "Chaz" Edwin Reagan, thanks for always making me feel good about myself. Also thanks for teaching me about Pokemon and Britany Spears, I don't know what I would do without that knowledge. You are a great guy, you just need to sit back sometimes, take a deep breath, and RELAX. Thanks for always skipping school but still being a great student and also thanks for telling me how much you hate me every once in a while, because it makes me realize that I am not being very nice. You have a lot of responsibility next year, so get rid of the ulcer. Finally, thanks for doing all the grunt work. Kristin, where do I begin? I have known you my whole life, and we are an odd pair. There are so many things I could talk about, but I guess I will begin with our fun times at grandmas and grandpas, making up songs and listening to the Johnny Castor Bunch. Watch out where you go on the riding lawn mower. Also, thanks for helping me get lost in St. Louis. Also very many thanks for the pretty candle for Christmas and the hair jewelry. I will also never forget the great times we have had at Tammy and Keith's. There's a snake in my boots! 4-wheeling was fun when we didn't get stuck on the hills and when Brandon wouldn't jump out in front of us on his bike. I would also like to say that I am still mad at you for not going on my mom's birthday, because I didn't perceive I would have never broken my ankle if you had. Some words of advice as I leave and you are forced to stay for another year, don't ever eat anything that rhymes with table and you are always going to have to put up with people you don't like, so just deal with it. Hmmm, think about that. Well, that's it with the staff, now I would like to thank other contributors to my life. Leann, once again I would like to thank you for ruining my chances of Mrs. Spudich ever liking me. Just kidding, she liked you. Thanks for being such a great role model, too bad mom and dad like me more. Mom and Dad, thanks for always encouraging me in every aspect of my life. You both support me in my decisions, especially the chef thing, and thank you very much for that because a lot of other people don't. Keri Dix, thanks for being the bestest friend ever, I always have a good time when I'm with you, even if I am having a horrible day. Finally, I would like to thank my Mexican dogs Carmen La Rosa Azul, and Carlos El Umbrito. I know you both stink, but I still love you. Farewell and good luck to those left behind.

I, MARY MARGARET LOFINK, have many people to thank this year. There are so many teachers, friends, and family members who have helped me throughout high school. If I should leave anyone out I apologize. I would like to start by thanking Mrs. Spudich. I owe you so much for the wonderful opportunity to be on the yearbook staff for the past two years. I have learned so much just by watching you. You are great at what you do and GCHS was lucky to have you as long as they did. Next, Beth, you were a terrific editor just like I knew you would be. You are a great person with a good heart and I am glad to have worked with you. Michelle, I have known you forever. Ever since we were little you were a natural leader. You were a great editor. Lesa, you just crack me up! Everything you do you try to be the best at don't ever lose that quality. Jay, words won't even describe you. I never minded getting teased by you because you made it so funny. I think my Mary Lowrider nickname might have stuck. Good Luck in everything you do. I know you'll be successful. Marissa, you are such a nice person and a hilarious actress. You did such a phenomenal job in yearbook and caught on so quickly. Kathryn, having yearbook with you was a fantastic experience. I really enjoyed it. Patrick, you are a truly unique person with a great sense of humor. You made the yearbook room exciting. Kristin not Kristen, I hope yearbook is all you thought it would be and more. It was a ton of fun getting to know you. I never thought someone could like McDonald's so much. Always remember to wave 'goodbye' with two hands. To a dear Creagan, thank you for liking Britney as much as you do, for calling me Mar-Bear and for all of the other great things you did this year. Best wishes for yearbook next year. A special thanks to Coach Layton for giving me the chance to participate in the volleyball season. To the volleyball team, you are all such great ladies. There was never ever a dull moment. Thank you also to Coach BOYER and Coach Randell for teaching me the simple things I didn't already know. To each and every teacher I've ever had, thank you for all you've taught me throughout my high school career. To Megan for me. You have so many outstanding qualities. I was lucky to have you for a friend. Friends Forever! To Katie Vivod you are such a wonderful person and you brought out so many goofy qualities I didn't even know I had. Michael, you are the best husband I have ever had. John thank you for adding humor to high school. What would life be like without the fish face? To my cousins Nick, Anna, and Chad, enjoy high school it goes by fast. To my good buddy Megan Ryan, you were a great lab partner. I still want Denny's cheesecake. Suzie, thank you for your guidance and friendship. Can I sit there? Last but not least I want to thank my family. To all of my aunts and uncles, you are all so much fun. Thank you for your support. To Amber, thank you for all of the rides to and from school, but mostly thanks for being a great friend. Thanks to my grandparents for always being there for me no matter what I needed. Mom, you are a wonderful person. I can't count how many nights you come home from a long day at work and spend hours helping with homework and listening to our problems. No one could ask for a better mother. Dad, you are so great. I have always been able to understand how special you are to me. Joe, handsome Joe, you have turned out to be an outstanding young man with good values. You are not bad to look at either. Laura, what a great sister you are. You don't let anyone push you around. That is great quality. To Baby Emily, you are just so pretty. When the time comes Daddy will have to beat the boys off with a stick. Thank you to everyone for your love and support. I couldn't have made it this far without all of you. Next year will be tough not seeing all of you every day. I know that all I have to do is call and any one of you will come running. You have all helped me so much. I love you all more than you will ever know.

I, KATHRYN ELIZABETH ISOM, would like to begin by first thanking the 1999-2000 Yearbook Staff. Thank you so much Mrs. Spudich for allowing me to be a part of yearbook. Making the yearbook is really interesting and I am thankful that I could help. I never knew that making a yearbook could be such hard work but I am pleased with the result. I know I will always remember this experience. I know you will enjoy your retirement, just remember to relax once in a while in between all of the fun you will be having. Next, I would like to thank both co-editors Beth Seibold and Michelle Charbonnier, for their wonderful leadership and dedication. Both of them were incredibly kind when helping me with my work in yearbook. They helped make everything run smoothly. I would also like to thank the remaining yearbook staff including Lesa, Mary, Jay, Patrick, Marissa, Kristin, and Charles for their friendship. It was wonderful working with all of them. They are all hard workers, have great personalities, and like to have fun every once in a while. Each of them contributed greatly to the yearbook and I am glad that they took the time to work on yearbook. Outside of the yearbook, I would first like to thank my best friends, Ali Krinski and Missy Essington. They are the best! Whenever I need them most, they are always there for me. Ali, remember, if you can't succeed as a lawyer, you could always be a Jennifer Lopez imitation. I'll buy your CD. Missy, good luck with Mr. B. Faculty and students of Granite City High School, thank you for all of your cooperation. I hope you enjoy the 1999-2000 yearbook. Last, but definitely not least, I thank my parents for everything, they are caring, helpful, encouraging and the list continues forever. Without all of these people, I do not think that I would have survived this year. I had a great senior year and I will miss everyone who has contributed. I wish the best of luck to everyone and I hope that we meet again.

I, MARISSA LEEANNE COX, would like to thank Mrs. Spudich for allowing me to work on this wonderful book of memories. Beth, or should I say penguin, I am glad we became great friends this year. I will never forget our shopping endeavors to Target and the Galleria. If it was not for Nick you probably would not have called me every night for advice. Working in the bakery was an experience that will never escape me. I hope we keep in touch for a long time, good luck in all you do, buddy. Kathryn, I will never forget our little talks with Mr. Betancourt or our trips wandering around the school. I wish you the best in the future. Patrick, you have to be the slowest worker I know. I do not know what I would do without your sarcasm everyday. Lesa, I enjoyed getting to know you better this year. Basketball with Mr. Petrillo our freshmen year was a blast. I wish you all the luck in the future. Mary, we had a great deal of fun this year. You are a very loud, but a very kind person. Jay, this is the first year I have ever really spoken to you. Even though you always asked for a piece of gum or a Kleenex. Good luck in all you do. Charles, you are the funniest guy I know. Your laugh cracks me up. Thanks for helping me make fun of the penguin. Kristin, you are a very funny girl. You are not afraid to speak your mind and I like that. I hope you enjoy your piglet socks. Michelle, it was nice meeting you this year. Best wishes in the future. To my teachers, thank you for all of the knowledge you have given me. Some of you will never know how much you have affected my life in such a positive way. Thank you for everything. Piggy, I do not know what I would do without you. You have been a wonderful friend and I will never forget our trips to the movies or our times in cheerleading. Melissa (Heinz 57), you have been a great friend this year and a wonderful partner in M&M. Oh no, flower pot. I do not think I will ever forget that. Thanks to you and Mrs. Bright. I have come out of my shell. The Spring Musical was a blast last year, never forget Ascot and the big hats. I wish you all the luck in the future. Megan, to my cousin who eats monkey tails for dinner. You have been a great friend. I will never forget working on that scrapbook. The fun times in physics will always be with me. Amy and Andy you are one of the cutest couples I know. Top Banana, you are the sweetest girl. Andy you are the smartest guy. Andy R. I am sorry I broke your heart in 8th grade. I hope you can forgive me. You are a very sweet guy. Tony, you have to be the sweetest guy I know and one of the best dancers. Ha Ha. Billie Jo, Jody, Lydia and Jamie never forget the lego candy blocks. Katie, Maria, Lindsay, Camille, Stephanie, Kim, Dave, Richie thank you for being such great friends. Ali, how can I ever forget your choice of diction. Tara, how would you like your eggs, orange juice. To my family, thank you for supporting me in all my endeavors. I am grateful that I have a loving and supporting family like you. To anyone else I may have forgotten thank you for touching my life in a positive way.

I, PATRICK WILLIAM THOMAS would like to thank Mrs. Spudich for constantly reminding us that if we didn't work we wouldn't get this yearbook until July. Thanks for making me feel smart by promising to use me as a lifeline if you ever get on "Who Wants To Be A Millionaire." Also thank you for making clever signs with my pictures and plastering them up all over school. Beth, well thank you for making me listen to all your problems, it was really no trouble at all, and whenever you want to take a ride my truck door is open. Michelle thanks for all the strange looks anytime I cracked a joke, I know I deserved all of them. Marissa thanks for not doing anything all year, in class and at work, we really didn't need your help anyway. Lesa, thanks for being my friend and listening to me complain about the stresses of yearbook. Thank you for always being there to point out any mistakes I might make, like spelling Kris wrong, and calling me names. Mary, thanks for letting us call you Mary Lowrider and putting up with my cruel jokes. Jay thanks for the nicknames, and all the stories you wrote. I hope that someday you beat your record on minesweeper after trying all year. Kathryn thanks for being my bodyguard on those trips to the choir room with the mobbing girls. Kristin, thanks for being bored all the time, and giving me something to make fun of. I hope that you washed your pink jacket, after the incident, before wearing it again, to get all the stains out. Charles thanks for laughing all the time whether anything was funny or not. I would also like to thank my parents and family, not because they had anything to do with the production of the yearbook, but because Mrs. Spudich told me I had no choice. Finally, I would like to thank everyone for putting up with my sarcasm and cynicism, and laughing at my jokes no matter how stupid and not funny they were.

I, JOHN "Jay" GENSERT would like to thank the other members of the yearbook staff. Michelle, Lesa, Charles, Patrick, Kristin, Beth, Kathryn, Marissa, and Mary. I thank Michelle for being a great editor and keeping everybody busy or at least trying. I thank Lesa for always complimenting my singing. I thank Charles for always having Britney Spears pictures. I thank Patrick for making fun of everybody which made me laugh unless he was making fun of me. I thank Kristin for laughing at all of the stupid things I said. I thank Beth also for being a great editor and for bringing cookies. I thank Kathryn also for laughing at the stupid things I said. I thank Marissa for all of the tissues. I thank Mary for doing the indexing, the absolute worst job in yearbook. I thought yearbook was pretty dog-gone enjoyable, mostly in part because of my friends. I wish them all the best and hope they have a great time after high school. I thank Mrs. Spudich for getting the book completed and running a good classroom. She, too, helped make yearbook more fun, and despite the many students who do not believe Mrs. Spudich is cool, I say she is. I thank my parents and sister for being a great family and suggesting the class. Also, I thank all of my friends. They really don't have anything to do with anything but I have to write one of these and it can't be too short. A few things I wrote in my thank you, which were pretty funny, had to be removed because they were too stupid. However, I would just like to thank everybody. That is all I have to say. I end my thank you with the universal good-bye which all members of the world know and understand, PEACE OUT.

I, CHARLES EDWIN REAGAN would like to start off by thanking the 99-00 Warrior Yearbook Staff as a whole for their hard work and dedication. I've made 8 new friends that I will cherish forever, thank you all for providing me with your expertise and advice, as well as being excellent role models and mentors, I could never thank you all enough for being there through the turmoil of Junior Year, so just because I didn't thank you personally (you know why...), thanks. As for you, Mrs. Spudich, thanks for becoming one of my favorite teachers, and for keeping me on my toes all the time. Whenever I finally thought we were "done", we of course weren't and you miraculously found something else for me to do, whether it be going through your hundreds of boxes or hunting down some unknown person for a picture, you re-defined my definition of stress and for that, I sincerely thank you. To Beth "Penguin" Seibold... do-bee-do-bee... doooooo!!!! I would like to thank you for always being a little more stressed out than I was, for being a friendly face ever since German class and for the ride to TGI Fridays for our Christmas Party, (and thank God I'm still alive). To Lesa "senior section" Byrd, what can I say? Thanks for wearing the provocative outfits (go-go and orange) every once in a while, just to spice up yearbook, for teaching me and Kristin everything you know about yearbook (hey, that took about 5 minutes!), and for those calming sessions that did wonders for my ulcer. You have more ambition than anyone I know, thanks for being a good listener when I wanted to complain, and for, of course, the "muppet" dance, I will forever remember you. Hallmark Girl. To Kristin "Cheerleader" Hill, you are one of my best friends, thanks for all the spiff-tacular times, especially the times when we rolled with the top down, and for finally getting me to actually go out sometimes. I will always remember the Wonder Bushes and "Creagan the Cheerleader wanna-be..." (sniff, sniff, sob!) Thanks for creating my infamous nickname, which I feel I will be stuck with for the rest of my life. Love ya, kid! To Pat "Mr. I-don't-care-cause-my-names-Pat" Thomas, I thank you for being the single most dry, callous, smart-alec person I know. I have become 100 times meaner from your influence, some day you will actually look like the bitter old man that lives inside of you. But sadly, that bitter old man will probably be a multi-millionaire for whom my first born will work. Emily Krug, I would like to thank you for being so strong this year. I know how hard the new millennium has been on you, but you've managed to persevere and overcome the hurdles that abound. You are one of the brightest girls (uhh... "cousins") I have been blessed to know and I know you will remain that way and become a star someday just like Katie Holmes. Good luck. To Emily's Mom, Kathie Lee, thanks for running me around all over the place last year and part of this one and being a shoulder to lean on in turbulent times. Brandi Janitch, even though you are such a bad influence on me, I thank you for helping come out of my shell. I hope that some day you will be able to realize there is nothing in your teeth and that you look fine. But you are a really good friend and I hope we remain close forever. I would like to thank my dear ol' mother for being supportive and psycho at the same time. Thanks for working so hard to give me everything I want and still have time to wash all the clothes. You are a great mom and I could never express in words how much I thank you for just being there. To my Dad, even though I don't think you really understand me right now, I need to thank you for being a shoulder to lean on and someone to look to for advice. Someday, we will overcome the perils that seem so important now and just get back to basics. To my step mom, Shawn and step siblings, thanks for throwing a curve ball into my "perfect existence", your presence in my life has made me a stronger person and I feel I have grown greatly in the last few years because of your influence. To anyone in my life, my friends, family, anyone that I may have forgotten, thanks... you're great... love ya... have a nice life, and in the immortal words of "Crowded House", "Don't you forget about me...."

I, KRISTIN LEE HILL would first like to thank McDonald's for making the greatest french fries in the whole world. Now I guess I need to thank the entire 1999-2000 yearbook staff for making my first year on staff a fun one. Mrs. "Spudiznich", I want to thank you for allowing me to be in your wonderful class. It was definitely an educational experience. You taught me so much about Jimmy Buffet. Oh and thanks for letting me talk to the rude girl in the hallway. I'd like to thank Patrick for never being mean or sarcastic (ha, ha) and for always reminding me about the times I got bored. Mary "Lowrider", I'd like to thank you for being your fruity self and making fun of Patrick with me. Double Hand Good-Bye! Kathryn, you were one of the quietest of the bunch, so I'd like to thank you for not being as loud as the rest of us. Jay, I'd like to thank you for just being your self. You are one of the funniest guys I know. I'm going to miss that wonderful singing voice of yours next year. Marissa, I want to thank you for the awesome socks. My toes will be warmer now thanks to you. Beth and Michelle, I'd like to thank the two of you for being terrific editors. You're two of the nicest chicks I've ever met. Michelle, I love your basement! Creagan, thank you for being apart of my "Dawson's Creek" for the past four years. We've experienced lots of things like the red moon and the scary light on the barge. I hope that you enjoy the "black market" Furby as much as I enjoy my phatty lunch box. Oh, and thanks for trusting me with Britney, sorry about the red light. Nsync and Britney rule! Lesa, I of course owe my yearbook career to you. You're the most muppet-like cousin I have. You're the only ones who realized how mean that dirty someone is. But he was enjoyable at times. Tee, hee! I'm going to miss you terribly next year. Alicia and Melody, I want to thank you for getting a kick out of the fact I like sausage. Our conversations were always very appetizing. Alicia, we all think Zach is fun. Jessica, thanks for giving me your left over pizza and for being the funniest, most sarcastic chick I know. Always remember, "Eggin' Ain't Easy But It Sure Is Fun!" Carrie, my little cheerleader, you always knew how to make me smile even if it meant talking about "pretty" or "punkin". Do you smell that? MEOW! Keri, Kate, and Joi, I want to thank you for making hockey season so much fun. Joi, you're the greatest dancer I know, Katie, you tell the best car ride stories, Keri, well you know how to be a salmon and you know that plastic is hot! Rock on! To the rest of the Varsity Hockey chicks, I want to thank you for also making the season a blast. You all know how to drop it like it's hot! I'd like to thank Mr. Lobdell for making fun of me when I gently tapped the back of your lovely volvo and for giving me the nickname Crash. Amanda, thanks for experiencing the Big Boy's Plate-o-Doom. Hey, drop the chulupa! Bob and Weave! I'd like to thank my square dancing group for having a blast even when half of us didn't know what we were doing. Brandi thanks for being a part of every little dumb joke. We were always a crack up together. You're an awesomely cool friend. My dear friend Shawn, thanks for calling me troll. You always knew how to make a girl feel good. To the people who sit in the corner of my seventh hour class with me, I'd like to thank you for putting up with every dumb thing I had to say. You made the end of the day eventful. Zach, I want to thank you for being one of the nicest guys I've ever met. Oh, and thanks for the note. Tom and Kyle, boy there's so much to thank you two for (ha, ha), so thanks for being my friends and making fun of five-head. Lisa, thanks for understanding NKOTB like I do. You're a great "tagging" partner. I'd like to thank my parents for always supporting me in everything I do and not giving me too much grief about my driving record. Last, but certainly not least, I'd like to thank the New Kids On The Block for making the best music ever. I will never love another band as much as I love you. And Jordan Knight, the greatest front man alive, thanks for being the love of my life.
